SUMMARY OF N. A. A. C. P. ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1924

Segregation And Lynching Have Been Chief Enemies Of The Race. Houston And Elaine, Arkansas Rioters Were Defended. Sec. Johnson Makes Statement.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has made public a summary of its annual report for the year 1924, together with an outline of its plans for the coming year. The report deals with the following accomplishments:

Segregation: Serregation by white property owners' agreement is carried to U. S. Supreme Court; New Orleans branch N. A. A. C. P. defeats segregation in Louisiana. Other cases fought throughout U. S. victory against school segregation in Coffeyville, Kansas and elsewhere.

Lynching: Anti-lynching campaign carried before American Bar Association in London; decline in lynching attributed by Congressional Committee chiefly to campaign of publicity; plans laid to push Dyer Anti-Lynching Bill in this session of Congress.

Houston Martyrs: 20 Houston Martyrs liberated on parole in 1924 as result of N. A. A. C. P. campaign and presentation to President Coolidge of petition with 125,000 signatures; all men to be eligible for parole by 1928 at latest.

Citizen Veterans' Hospital: Investigation, by N. A. A. C. P. Secretary, of charges of discrimination against colored soldiers and malpractice, results in dismissal of white doctor.

Legal Defense: N. A. A. C. P. saves three from death penalty, Luther Collins in Texas and 13-year-old Elias Ridge in Oklahoma; receives 476 appeals for legal aid during year, from all parts of the U. S.; renders aid in army.

Finance: N. A. A. C. P. has greatest year in its history with 155 branches added; pays out in appropriations; won $1,000 offered by Mr. Peabody, through raising $9,000 in sixty days.

Politics: Urged independence in use of ballot by colored Americans during Presidential election.

Arts and Letters: Spingarn Medal to Roland Hayes; the 1924 Spingarn prizes announced through the Crisis. Madam Walker Scholarships and Medal; Members of the N. A. A. C. P. publish new books and new editions of the old ones.

Attempt to disfranchise Oklahoma colored voters met by appeal to Department of Justice, resulted in indictment of election officers.

In making public the summary of the N. A. A. C. P. report, Secretary James Weldon Johnson said:

"In the year 1924 the issue which has been emerging in various parts of the United States as paramount for colored people, is the issue of school and residential segregation by color.

"In 1917 that issue was met by the N. A. A. C. P. before the U. S. Supreme Court, when the decision in the now famous Louisville Case declared that segregation by municipal or State law contravened the provisions of the Constitution. Since then, and especially during the past year, segregation has taken new forms. It has been attempted by private agreement among white landlords, incorporated in documents conveying title to property, to procure segregation prohibited by the Supreme Court's decision. That has given rise to a legal contest, in which the N. A. A. C. P. is now engaged, which has run its course through the lower courts of the District of Columbia and has now been appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court, where it is probable it will be heard this spring.

"Upon the outcome of this case depend similar cases in all parts of the country. Meanwhile the New Orleans branch of the N. A. A. C. P. has attacked, on the basis of the Louisville decision an attempt to enact municipal and State segregation laws and their fight is being carried to the Supreme Court of Louisiana.

"In the matter of school segregation as far-reaching victory has been won in Coffeyville, Kansas. There, thrown open to the doors of all junior high schools of the state to colored students, whom it had been sought to exclude, in many cases successfully. Other school segregation cases have occurred in Ohio, New Mexico, California, Indiana, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Concerning the decline in the number of lynchings to 16 during 1924, Mr. Johnson cited the report of the Congressional Committee, which stated its belief as follows:

"We believe that the decrease is due to the publicity given this crime, and the fear of a law by the United States providing punishment for those who participate and are responsible for lynchings. The real publicity that has helped has come through the efforts of Congress favorable action on this legislation. The American people generally have been for the first time told the truth regarding lynchings, and that they are not caused by the commission of heinous crimes, except in a small part of the total number of lynchings.

Commenting upon the report, Mr. Johnson said:

"The N. A. A. C. P. has grown

NEGRO CALLED TO DOOR. SHOT

Masked Men, After Attempt At Kidnapping Prominent Colored Man, Fire Three Shots Into Body, Killing Him Instantly.

Special to the St. Louis Argus

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., Jan. 7.—Racial trouble is brewing hourly since the cowardly murdering of a prominent colored man here last night by three masked white men who called him to the door of his house and shot him three times.

From the best information obtainable at this time, it seemed that Roxie Beasley, a colored man, had had some trouble with the local farmers about land owning or renting. That was some days ago; however. On the night of the killing, Beasley was awakened at 1:30 a. m. by a pounding on his door. Upon opening it, three white men, masked, asked for Beasley, and when Beasley came to the door he was grabbed and in attempt at kidnapping him was made. He struggled with his assailants in the yard and three shots were heard. The next morning, Beasley's body was found in the yard.

This has greatly excited the colored people of Pemiscot County and racial feeling is running high. No one seems to know who the assailants are. The general belief, however, is, that it is land owning (trouble) the whites trying to keep the Negro cotton planters out of the county. This is said to be a strong Klan community.

Quite a number of colored people are planning to move.

RENEW EFFORTS TO OUST COHEN

Southerners Will Take Matters To U. S. Supreme Court To Test The Right Of Negroes' Citizenship

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8.—It was learned here today that further efforts will be made to oust Walter L. Cohen, Comptroller of Customs at New Orleans. Edwin Bolte and Browne Mackenzie an attorney they would leave Monday for New Orleans to perfect plans to bring to the Supreme Court their case against Cohen. Efforts to remove Cohen are based on the constitutionality of the fourteenth amendment enfranchising Negroes.

Bolte and Mackenzie called at the White House and left with Secretary Slemp a resolution they said had been adopted by the Louisiana club for segregation. It set forth that "the alleged fourteenth amendment to the constitution is null and void" has been the will of the people, but was by means of a tyranical force and unconstitutional acts forced on the people."

SINGING EVANGELIST AT ST. PAUL A. M. E. CHURCH

Prof. Edward C. Deas, the singing evangelist and composer of Chicago, is at St. Paul A. M. E. church, Leffingwell and Lawton, assisting in the revival services which began Jan. 1. Rev. C. W. Newton, Presiding Elder of Cape Girardeau District, is assisting the pastor.

Over 100 members have pledged to consecrate themselves for service and to attend the meetings each night, leaving off all worldly pleasures for these two weeks in order to save souls.

A special prayer band has been organized to visit the private homes and a Ways and Means Committee organized to take care of the financial affairs.

Already several conversions have been made and the church has been wonderfully revived spiritually, Dr. Noah Williams, pastor.

SEARS' SLAYER SENTENCED TO HANG. APPEAL SOUGHT

Court Bases Decision On Two Officers' Identification Of Prisoner. Man Guilty If They Thought Sears Identified Himself.

Benjamin F. Hardin, counsel for William Lashley, who was sentenced to be hanged February 13 by Circuit Judge Ittner, Friday, for the murder of the champion police marksman of the country at Fourteenth and Papin streets, June 22 last, seeks to appeal the case on four points as a last resort to save the condemned man.

Hardin declares in his appeal that there was unwarranted comment on the part of the presiding judge; in that he failed to instruct all the jury in the case; a failure by the court to instruct the jury on every point of law involved; in that the verdict of the court is contrary to the law and the evidence.

Lucian P. Garrett, manager of the St. Louis Branch Office of the Standard Life Insurance Co., was elected to the Grand Board of Directors of the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity during the 18th National Convention at Saint Louis, Mo., last week. Garrett is a graduate of Lincoln University, class of 1913.

FOUNDERS' DAY CELEBRATION AT LINCOLN, JAN. 14

Will Be Honored After 58 Years. Will Be An Annual Event. Alumni Body Plans To Build Monument

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 7.—Lincoln University (formerly Lincoln Institute) which grew out of an idea conceived around the camp-fires of the 62nd U. S. Colored Infantry, while stationed at Ft. McIntosh during the Civil War, and which was founded in 1866, will hold its first "Founders Day" celebration next Wednesday, January 14, when the founders (or founders)" are still living and will hugely enjoy this celebration. The matter of doing honor to these, our benefactors, has been long in being postponed entirely too long. We could not do better than to exhaust every means at our command to make the fourteenth of January a gala day in the life of our dear Lincoln."

A Gala Day—

Lincoln University purports to pay a pending tribute to a group of the above mentioned veterans who as their first act after being mustered out of the army donated of their meager savings a sum of money for the establishment of the institution. Bishop W. T. Vernon, an alumnus of the institution, has been secured to deliver an address. Numerous features of the day are in the hands of a committee which will see that ceremonies, music, a parade and other appurtenances in keeping with the importance and dignity of the occasion are provided for.

Plan Monument

Another fete in connection with the acknowledgement of the Founders of the school is a movement startedby the Alumni Association about a year ago for the erection of a fitting monument to the founders of Lincoln University. Miss Laura LaRue, 906 Monroe street, Jefferson City, is in charge of the fund.

Many old alumni members are expected to be in attendance at the "Founders Day" celebration. Every preparation is being made to receive them.

NEW YORK NEGRO LAWYER NAMED DEP. ATTY. GEN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—All eyes of the New York political world were directed towards Attorney Clayton F. A. Emerich last week, when he was named as Deputy Attorney General by Attorney General Ottinger to fill the position formerly held by Attorney Cornelius McGloggon. The annual salary of $6,000 is attached to the office.

Counsellor French, a native of Tarpoken, has been a prominent figure in the legal world of Gotham since 1912. He is holder of an A. B. degree from N. Y. U., and an A. M., L. L. B., degree in D. from Columbia U. He is a staunch Republican.

WHITE BRUTE ASSAULTS COLORED GIRL TWELVE

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Eunice Rakestraw, a pretty 12-year-old colored child was criminally assaulted by a strange white man, while her mother was away and only she and her two brothers were at home at 153 W. 123rd street.

The white brute is said to have posed as a plumber and asked Eunice who had always been warned to keep the door locked, to admit him to repair a leak. The child complied, believing the man the one described by that only she and her small brothers were present, sent them out, and then committed the assault.

When the mother learned of the plight of her daughter on arriving home when the latter crying, told her of the outrage. The police were informed immediately, and a general search of the district was waged in an effort to locate the criminal, but without success.

CITIZENS GET-TO-GETHER MEETING AT THE UNION MEMORIAL FRIDAY NIGHT

A get together meeting of citizens for the good of the race in St. Louis will be held at Union Memorial Church, Friday, January 16, at 8 o'clock. There are a few important matters to be discussed for the good of all. Homer G. Phillips will speak on national and local city politics. The citizens are advised that if they do not receive a notification by card to attend anyhow, as all are invited.

Inadvertently Omitted From List Of Kappa Directors

Lucian P. Garrett, manager of the St. Louis Branch Office of the Standard Life Insurance Co., was elected to the Grand Board of Directors of the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity during the 18th National Convention at St. Louis, Mo., last week. Garrett is a graduate of Lincoln University, class of 1913.

MOORE TAKES OFFICE OATH

Sworn In Second Time As A Member Of The Missouri Legislature. Was Presented With Bouquet.

His Major Efforts Will Be Along Educational Lines. Jones H. Parker Is Made Speaker Of The House

Special to St. Louis Argus.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 7.—The Fifty-third Missouri General Assembly convened here today, and the members of the new legislative bodies took the oath of office which set in motion the law making body of the state for the next two years.

Conspicuous among the members of the House of Representatives was Walthall M. Moore of St. Louis, who was elected from the Third Representative District of the state at the general election last November. This is the second time that Mr. Moore has been so honored by the voters of his district, having served in the same body during the Fifty-first General Assembly, 1921.

Mr. Moore's seat is No. 1, being in the front row to the right of the Speaker of the House.

Shortly after Secretary of State Charles U. Becker called the House to order, at noon to-day, and the members found their seats, Mr. Moore was presented with a large, beautiful bouquet of choice flowers by J. E. Mitchell on behalf of the St. Louis Argus. This, of course, attracted no little attention, and for the moment all eyes were upon Moore. In casting about, it was observed that no other members of that body were recipients of flowers.

At the close of the session, many representatives, some of whom were former members of that body, shook hands and congratulated Mr. Moore upon his second victory. Several ladies passed his seat and admired the flowers. Readily taking advantage of Mr. Moore's offer, they plucked many of the roses from the bouquet. The observer did not know whether or not the lady member of the House was among those who plucked the roses.

Jones H. Parker, Speaker

Judging from the expressions of aproval, the colored people of the state were highly pleased with the election of Jones H. Parker of St. Louis as Speaker of the House. It was pointed out that Mr. Parker has the reputation of being fair and liberal toward colored people, and judging from the manner in which he handled the brief session to-day, there is no doubt but that he will make the best speaker in the history of the House.

It will be Mr. Moore's desire to be placed upon some of the important committees, especially the Appropriation Committee, and it is believed, at present that the Speaker will make the appointment.

In an interview here to-day, Mr. Moore stated that he expected to represent all the people in his district, as well as, serve the state at large, but he would major along educational lines.

Oath of Office

The following is the oath of office administered to Mr. Moore:

"I, Walthall M. Moore, Representative-Elect, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States and of the State of Missouri, and faithfully perform the duties of my office; and that I will not knowingly receive, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing for the performance or non-performance of any act or duty pertaining to my office, other than the compensation allowed by law."

The same oath was administered to each representative.

MRS. EMMA B. McKOIN, OLD CITIZEN, IS BURIED

Mrs. Emma B. McKoin, wife of G. W. McKoin of the Harrison & McKoin Undertaking Establishment, who has figured prominently in the business and social life of St. Louis, succumbed to a lingering illness last week at her home, 3961 Lawton avenue, in the age of 70 years.

Mr. and Mrs. McKoin came to this city from Louisville, Ky., in 1881. They formed what is now one of the city's oldest undertaking establishments a short time later. At the time of Mrs. McKoin's death they had been married over 50 years.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from St. Paul A. M. E. church, where Mrs. McKoin had been a member. She was buried in St. Peters cemetery.

Besides her husband, two sons, two daughters and four grand children survive Mrs. McKoin.

EXPLOSION INTERRUPTS MEETING OF KLANSMEN

MACOMB, Ill. Jan. 7.—A meeting of the Ku Klux Klan made up of 100 Klansmen from Macomb and vicinity held here when a bomb was exploded under the building housing the organization, partially wrecking it. Members of the order were forced to make a speed away record. Coincident to a meeting of the Klan in Macomb a few weeks ago,

The journey was renewed to Little Rock, Ark., which is Mr. Maceo Settles' home. Here they spent New Year's Day. A number of social functions were planned for their entertainment. The next stop was Hot Springs, Ark. On their return home, they stopped again at Little Rock and Memphis and arrived in St. Louis, January 7, after experiencing a most enjoyable tour. The hospitality shown them by people of their race and by the white people also was far superior to that in the Eastern, Western and Northern states. They had been misinformed in regard to southern people and their attitude to the colored race, but from now on, they know better having experienced it themselves. The roads were in perfect condition by way of Memphis to Cairo, Ill.

ROSS-SUTTERFIELD NUPTIALS

On January 3, at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ross, 3on Bonham Ave., Clayton, Mo., was solemnized one of the prettiest marriages of the New Year.

They gave in marriage their only daughter, Miss Rose Anna Ross to Mr. Sydney D. Sutterfield of Toledo, O. The home was beautifully decorated with roses and ferns. Promptly at 6:00 o'clock, Nov. 2, 1924, the bridal party filed down the stairway to the melodious strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March. Mrs. Mary Ross, sister of Fulton, Mo., the matron of honor, led the procession. She looked beautiful in cream chantilly lace over cream crepe de chine and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses with pink ribbon streamers. Next came the bride leaning on the arm of her father. She wore an exquisite gown of white crepe over satin, lace trimmed with ribbon appendages and orange blossoms streaming from the waist-line in front to the end of her gown. Her head-dress was a beautiful bonnet-shaped one of white tulips and orange blossoms, the veil reaching to the floor. She carried a lace shower bouquet of white roses with white satin streamers and wore a necklace of pearls.

She was met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Cox of St. Louis in the beautiful living room where the marriage rites were very impressively said by Rev. Smith of Kirkwood, Mo., of the A. M. E. Church. Mrs. Ross, mother of the bride, looked charming in a beautiful gown of black crepe de chine with black lace trimming. After receiving many congratulations from relatives and friends assembled, the bridal party, followed to the dining room where they were served a buffet dinner.

The presents were many, varied and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Sutterfield are classmates and graduates of Lincoln University. They departed at 9:20 P. M., for Toledo, O., their future home.

The first prize for ladies was won by Miss Hazel Alexander of Indianapolis, Ind. The booby by Mrs. E. R. Livingston. Dr. G. J. Dixon won first prize for the gentlemen and Prof. A. W. Reason the booby. Mrs. Hall was given a beautiful silver bread tray. A delicious menu was served.

MR. W. H. DAVIS, HOST AT A DINNER

The beautiful home of Mr. W. H. Davis of Maurice Place, was the scene of a brilliant weekend affair. The occasion was a dinner given by him in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Lewis, and daughter of Chicago.

The invited guests were: Mrs. P. Lee, of Lucas avenue; Miss Marillian Webster, of Hannibal, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. H. P. White, Miss Mattie Williams, Miss Gladys Covington and Mr. Leo Tony.

The dining room and table were gorgeously decorated and butterfly festoons were quite in evidence.

The following unique and original menu was served: Oyster Flippee a La Tobasco, Toasted Salty Crackers, Spiked Juice of Orange Canape, Smothered Spring Chicken Southern Style, Stuffed Celery, Ruffled Southern Yams, Sweet Pickles, Stuffed Olives, Molded Dublin Scolloped Potatoes, Rolled French Rolls, Cocktail of Gin, French Drip Coffee, double cream.

LANE TABERNACLE STEWARDS BANQUET WIVES AT DUBOIS

By A. L. Gardner

If we were to describe the second annual banquet that the Lane Tabernacle Board of Stewards tendered their wives and sweethearts at the Dubois Hotel, Tuesday night, the 30th, we would do it in "little Dejoge." The baby illustrates his largeness in Miss Ferbers famous novel, "we would stretch forth our arms and say it was so big." Stewards? Yes, Christmen who serve the church all the year, served their wives the other night and they did it with sheer humility and pluck. When the good humored gentlemen and good looking ladies departed from the Dubois at 12:30 a. m. their expression seemed to speak a line of a popular song of a few years ago, that "God made the night time too short." Prof. M. De Grey, in the capacity of toastmaster for the second time was simply splendid, and so was Mr. Ed Richardson as chairman of the committee on arrangements. Mesdames O. Bracy and A. Gardner, as mistress makers were the spice of the program, these two charming ladies repaired the guest after their arrival. Speakers who made up a brilliant program were: Mrs. John Speed, Bishop N. C. Cleaves, Mr. J. W. Hayes, Mr. J. C. Campbell, Dr. N. O. Bracy. The Board presented their president with a beautiful silk umbrella, the presentation was made by Mr. Campbell. Was it a lovely banquet? "Listen and you shall hear." It must have been. We do'nt when there were such people present as: Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Richardson, Atty. and Mrs. W. H. Waddy, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. White, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. R. A. Manuel, Mr. R. L. Moorehead and Miss Majorie Moorehead, Bishop and Mrs. N. C. Cleaves, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Prudhomme, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter, Prof. and Mrs. M. B. Gray, Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Ervin, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Moore, Dr. and Mrs. N. O. Bracy, Mr. and Mrs. H. Howard, Mr. A. L. Gardner, and Miss Mary Sampson. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright, Rev. N. L. Smith, Miss Francis Cleaves, Mrs. John Speed, Mrs. R. Radford, Mr. J. H. Jones, Mr. I. R. Sypris, Mr. N. W. Wilson, Mr. Jerome Johnson.

MINISTERS CALL MEETING

The following named ministers are requested to call for all ministers without regard to denomination to meet at the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Monday 2 p. m., Jan. 12, 1925 for the purpose of forming a Negro Ministers' Council to consider all civic matters pertaining to our race: Revs. S. A. Moseley, G. W. Benton, J. D. Howard, O. C. Maxwell and J. Cohron.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

Dear friends.

Through some of interest during the Christmas and New Year, even the affairs which I was unable to attend owing to previous engagements, I have been made especially aware, heard and witnessed, has stimulated within me a spirit of indescribable interest. One which I shall never forget. Forever cherish. During the Christmas and New Year greetings, the good deeds, kind thoughts and welcome of my many friends. The Master said, "Except a grain of corn be planted into the ground, germinate, die and spring up, it cannot bear fruit." During the assembly of a father's New Year's Day, the spiritual side of the H. W. Evans Club was planted in the productive soil of Christian faith and there abides within, germinate, die and spring up into the fullness of a harvest of good fruit. With honor and due recognition of me, you, it affords me immense pleasure to refer Dubois to the members of the H. W. Evans Club for your adoring gift of honor, presented to me Christmas. I came to you empty handed, I shall return companied by the serenity of love. I feel myself greatly indebted to this club for the honor that it has extended to Cowgirl Mrs. Ida B. Hall in my future efforts to increase my affection and improve my services for this club. Your kindness shall never be forgotten. Forever, shine forth like the brilliant rays of the sun that casts its rays of noonday glorius upon our pathway. No more, I remain, forever cherish, keeping with the stars of the heavenly sphere, commanded by the omnipotent power of God, in the persuasive agency of the Lord's appointed star of Christianity, embodied in the heart of the H. W. Evans club. May the lives of my many friends and members of the H. W. Evans Club of Lane Tabernacle C. M. E. church, be like unto that of Christ, a life everlasting. I thank you.

ANOTHER STEP IN DENTISTRY

By AN OBSERVER

About two and one-half years ago Dr. Terry M. Hart opened a dental office in the city of St. Louis, after having enjoyed a lucrative practice of ten years in America, Ga. He is now considered one of the leading dentists of our city. It is said by his numerous patrons that he is a very kind, pleasing, patient and efficient dentist.

Dr. Hart has realty holdings in St. Louis, in addition to his property in America, Ga., where he was considered one of the leading business men and financiers.

He is a graduate of Lincoln University of Pennsylvania, having received a degree of A. B. from this institution in 1910. He is also a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania Dental College of Philadelphia. This institution is considered and recognized as one of the best dental colleges in the world.

I take this occasion to announce the removal of Dr. Hart's dental offices to the southwest corner of Jefferson and Franklin avenues, opposite the Jefferson Bank, over the Economy Drug store, where he has a new, sanitary, modern, fully equipped office, second to none in the city, irrespective of color.

When asked why he equipped such an elaborate and expensive office, Dr. Hart's reply was that he felt that he owed it to his people of St. Louis, in the form of his knowledge of science and enormous patronage. His office is opened to the inspection and criticism of the St. Louis citizenry.

His long experience and special training in oral surgery and extractions admirably fit him to master the most delicate and difficult extractions. All work leaving his office is subjected to the most rigid inspection possible, the most painstaking care being exercised in the execution of every job.

In soliciting future patronage, he says that he does so with the full knowledge that only the highest class of work will satisfy, and that he is now in a position to please the most fastidious. He assures the public that he will endeavor to administer painless methods, satisfactory and efficient service in the future, as he has done in the past.

SUNSHINE CHARITY

The Sunshine Charity club met at the residence of Mrs. Houston, 3959 Finney avenue, Wednesday, December 10, 1924. After the regular routine business the hostess served a delicious repast, which was enjoyed by all. The secretary, Mrs. J. H. Redmond, presented the president, Mrs. Birdie Smith, with the Holy Bible as a token of love in behalf of the Sunshine Charity club. The president was overjoyed at such a surprise, but thanked each member for such a beautiful thought. Ten dollars in money was given to bring happiness in hours, also six dollars worth of groceries was given to a needy family. The president wishes to express her gratitude to members and friends for their hearty support the past year, hoping and trusting each member will be very broad in their charity work during the new year. Again thanking the members and friends and wishing a happy and prosperous New Year to all. Next meeting at the residence of Mrs. Evelyn Scott, 4229 St. Ferdinand, Wednesday, January 14, at 1:30 p. m.

DR. SCOTT DECLARES RACE NEEDS TRAINED LEADERS

Preston News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan. 7.—In the course of an address on the needs of Howard University, Dr. Emmett J. Scott, Secretary-Treasurer of Howard, said that the $2,000,000 gift of the United States now on deposit in the treasury, awaiting the passage of a bill by Congress, should be used to build a great university for the training of leaders for the Negro race.

"Howard University," said Dr. Scott, "is the only institution in the world that is trying to train leaders for the Negro race. Other institutions are trying to train leaders for the white race, but Howard is the only one that is trying to train leaders for the Negro race. Howard is the only one that is trying to train leaders for the Negro race. Howard is the only one that is trying to train leaders for the Negro race.

THEATRES

CHAS. GILPIN, NOTED ACTOR, COMING TO THE BOOKER WASHINGTON NEXT WEEK

Chas. S. Gilpin, the celebrated dramatic actor will be the headline feature at the Booker Washington Theatre next week. Mr. Gilpin rose to fame as the star in "The Emperor Jones," a dramatic masterpiece which won high praise in all the highest class theatres from New York to the Mississippi. He was also awarded the Spingarn Medal, given annually to the colored person who contributes most to the advancement of the race during the year. Gilpin was also highly honored at an actors' banquet in New York City.

During the engagement at the Booker Washington Theatre, Mr. Gilpin will be supported by Lawrence Chenault, and Miss Rose McLendon, both talented performers. They will present a vaudeville dramatic sketch entitled "White Mule." It is based on a man's taste for hard liquor which almost leads him to ruin. He is a small land owner and is about to lose his possessions but is saved by a remarkable dream which effects his reformation. It is said to be a strong human interest drama with a good moral.

The entire program for next week has been carefully selected and is of the most talented class. George Crawford is a novelty comedian, who does acrobatic dancing and features the "Frog Man." Tim and Gertie Moore are at the top of the ladder in humorous entertaining. The Three Dixie Echoes, consist of Tillie Johnson, Billie Young and Willie Richardson. They offer a syncopated repertoire of songs, dances and fun. There will be no advance in the price of admission.

LAURA SMITH AND COMPANY AT B. W. THIS WEEK

Laura Smith, the record blues singer, and company, including a jazz band, opened a week's engagement at the Booker Washington Theatre, Monday night. Their show consists of a repertoire of specialties ending with Miss Smith and her band on the stage. She sings "Broke and Dis-gusted Blues," "When Your Man Don't Want You Around" and "Lake Pontchartrain Blues." The opening scene to this act is a cotton plantation with a cabin. "Sam" Jones characterizes the "old man," and is prominent in the action throughout. He does a monologue and sings the "Coodle Crawl," also doing a double with Miss Smith singing "Mamma's Gone, That's All." The jazz band presents a couple of good numbers and the act closes with "Hydrant Love" by the entire company.

The first part has Madison and Madison in a comedy, sketch with songs, dances and a trombone solo. Donouver and Lee, a sister team, have a round at sarcasm and some good songs and dances.

"Chicken Reel" Beaman is an extra attraction on the bill. This favorite black face comedian is putting over his humorous monologue about Georgia and keeps the audience laughing. His song about a mule has a kick to it and his other selections score a hit.

IRENE SCRUGGS MAKES HIT ON THE RADIO

Irene Scruggs, the blues singer who won the St. Louis Championship and later had her songs recorded by the Okeh Record, was in the Stix, Reed and Fuller Radio program, Wednesday night. Miss Scruggs broadcasted three selections and made such a hit that two encores were demanded after the regular program was finished. There has been a popular request for her to sing again and it is understood that she will be broadcasted again in the near future.

"HAPPY GO LUCKY" AT GAYETY

"Happy Go Lucky" will be the attraction at the Gayety Theatre, week beginning Sunday matinee. The show is made up from former vaudeville stars featuring Jean McCoy and Ralph Walton the Turner Brothers and others. The show is snappy and full of novelties. The Gayety also announces special added features beginning Tuesday night with a specialty called "Which One Would You Marry?" The Atlantic City Beauty Bathing Girl Parade will be presented on Thursday, and the Art Studies De Luxe on Saturday. These displays will be on an illuminated runway extending back to the 15th row.

THE PICTURE THEATRES

THE JESTAMERE

Howard Bosworth will be seen in "The Man Alone," at the Jestamere Theatre this Saturday.

"Sinners in Silk" will be the attraction on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. This picture is different so far nothing new in the way of jazz stories. It concerns not only the younger set getting older, but also the older set getting younger. The rejuvenation theory of Dr. Steinach, the famous Viennese specialist, is the foundation of the plot. In the picture an elderly man, not far from death's door, takes the treatment and enters the world of pleasure in which the younger set of today is surrounded. Adolphe Menjou, Eleanor Boardman and Conrad Nagel have the chief roles.

Carmel Myers will be featured in "The Dancer of Paris," on Wednesday. It is a fiery romance of the days of King Tut.

"Broken Barriers," a picture that deals with Ku Klux Klan, will be shown next Thursday and Friday. James Kirkwood and Mae Busch are in the cast.

THE STAR

Reginald Denny and Laura La Plante in "The Fast Worker" will be the Star Theatre attraction on Saturday and Sunday. It is a sprightly story of a man who escaped by impersonating another, and thus found himself saddled with a wife and family he'd never seen before. Then—to add to his troubles—he met a "sister-in-law" with whom he fell in love. It is marked with the regular brand of Denny thrills—a fight on a wild automobile chase, a mad dash for a yacht at sea—all enveloped in the whimsical humor that has made Denny a screen favorite.

"Driftwood" will be presented on Monday. Tom Mix in "The Man From Texas," on Tuesday, and "Texas Steer," on Wednesday.

The attraction for next Thursday and Friday will be "Married Flirts." It tells a smart, brilliantly cynical story of the ultra-modern, half-idle social set. The complications, which are many, are said to be handled with great ingenuity. Pauline Frederick plays the title role; Conrad Nagel appears as Perley Rex. Mae Busch is cast as Jill Wetherell and Huntly Gordon as Pen Wayne.

THE CRITERION

Stronghearf, the wonder dog, will be seen in "The Love Master" at the Criterion Theatre this Saturday. It is a drama set in the land of eternal snows, the story of a woman's love and devotion and a dog who fights to protect her life.

Tom Mix and "Tony" will be seen in "The Last of the Duanes," on Sunday. It is a story of the wide open spaces, filled with thrills and daring.

Douglas MacLean will be seen in "The Yankee Consul," with Franklyn Farnum in a "Desperate Adventure" on Monday. Seena Owen in "Neglected Women" will be the Tuesday feature. Richard Ta-madge in "Stepping Lively" and an all star cast in "Wallloping Wallace" will be Wednesday features.

Barbara LaMarr and Bert Lytell in "Sandra" will be the Thursday special. Acting in the title role, Barbara is rendered a woman with a restless heart. She craves love, yet she knows not where to find it. Her quest carries her throughout the capitals and gay spots of Europe, and she meets with numerous novel experiences. Yet the real love she seeks is not to be found. Finally Sandra returns to her home town, and there she discovers love, right on her own door. "Sandra" will be seen in "Vanity's Price," next Friday.

THE COMET

"Sandra" will be the Comet Theatre special this Saturday. Barbara La Marr is cast as a woman with a restless heart. She follows the love call all over Europe, then finally returns to find the real man of her heart's desire right where she started from. Bert Lytell is the leading man.

"This Woman" will be shown on Sunday. It tells of a beautiful and talented girl alone in New York, friendless and broke. There is a situation! The depths of despair—and then a sudden meteoric rise to luxury and fame. Irene Rich, Louise Fazenda and Ricardo Cortez head the cast.

The Gish Sisters will be seen in "Orphans of the Storm," on Monday. Buddy Roosevelt in "Battling Buddy" and Jack Dempsey in another "Fight and Win," picture on Tuesday, and Bebe Daniels in "Dangerous Money," on Wednesday.

The attraction for next Thursday and Friday will be "The Man Who Came Back." The story concerns a wealthy New Yorker who goes wrong and by a process of degradation becomes a beach-comber in the Orient. The love of a woman awakens his self respect eventually, but not until a romantic story of pathos and action has been unfolded step by step. George O'Brien and Dorothy Mackaill have the leading roles.

THE RETINA

Lefty Flynn will be shown in "The Millionaire Cowboy," at the Retina Theatre this Saturday. It is an action story of romance and adventure.

Bill Cody will be seen in "Riders of Mystery" on Sunday. It is a western thriller dealing with "phantom bandits."

"Mile-a-Minute Morgan," on Monday, Strongheart in "The Love Master," on Tuesday, and Ben Wilson in "Notch No One," on Wednesday, are all big thrillers.

THE XENUS

Gloria Swanson in "Wages of Virtue" will be shown at the Xenus Theatre this Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The picture is a pleasing love tale woven about a young girl product of the slums, who becomes the toast of the French Foreign Legion. As Carmelita, Miss Swanson has a role ideally suited to her part that makes it stand out as the greatest thing she has ever done in her lengthy career. The story has interest, appeal, comedy and all the rest.

Priscilla Dean will be seen in "White Tiger," on Wednesday and Thursday. It is an underworld story of three international crooks. The three are characterized just as they would be in real life, not completely souls with a sense of honor and loyalty, but three fighting creatures each determined to get his share of the booty and unwilling to believe that the other two will let him have it. Buddy Roosevelt will also be seen in "Rough Riding."

"The Hunchback of Notre Dame" will be repeated by request at this theatre next Friday and Saturday. This big 12 reel picture featuring Lon Chaney, has been reviewed several times in these columns and suffice to say it was a wonderful production. There are 75 principals in the cast and 3275 extra players.

THE CASINO

Tom Mix will be seen in "The Man From Texas," at the Casino Theatre this Saturday. It is a love romance with fearless cowboys and desperadoes laid men.

Buddy Roosevelt and Violet La Plante will be seen in "Wallop" Wallace," on Sunday. It is a picture with a big climax. Roosevelt during the course of the swiftly paced proceedings performs a number of scalp-tickling, "ultra-reckless feats of dexitry, which includes the bull-dogging of a steer which has run amuck, and is bearing down on a little child.

Richard Talmadge and Eva Novak will be presented in an underworld picture "Laughing at Danger," on Monday. William Fairbanks is the star in "A Fight for Honor," on Wednesday. Yakima Canutt in "Ridin' Mad," on Thursday, will be one of a double features. Another double feature will be shown on Friday. Ora Carew will be seen in a story of love and thrills in San Francisco's Chinatown, "Waterfront Wolves," and Shirley Mason will be presented in "The Great Diamond Mystery."

THE OLYMPIA

"The Turmoil" will be the Olympia Theatre special this Saturday. It is Booth Tarkington's powerful drama of American life. It is the story of a self-made millionaire's struggle to bend a rebellious family to his iron will. He reaps defeat and havoc. Every incident is gripingly dramatic, and the settings are massive, yet true to the author's description.

Harry Carey will be seen in "The Flaming Forties," on Sunday and Monday. It is Bret Harte's story of "Tennessee Pardner" and is chock full of thrills and typical Carey fights of the "flying fist" variety. Jack Dempsey will also be shown in the fourth of "Fight and Win" series.

"The Fool's Awakening,' on Tuesday; and "Pal O'Mine," on Wednesday are big features.

"The Man Who Came Back' will be presented next Thursday and Friday. George O'Brien and Dorothy Mackaill are the stars in this story that narrates the tragedy of a wealthy young New Yorker who goes the pace that kills, winding up as a beach comber in the Orient. Drugs and liquor have robbed him of his manhood. His fall offers a wealth of dramatic possibilities. His rise, due to the influence of a good woman is equally as spectacular.

THE LINCOLN

Mae Murray will be seen in "Fashion Row" at the Lincoln Theatre this Saturday. "Abraham Lincoln" will be the attraction on Sunday. The outstanding episodes in the life of Abraham Lincoln have been laced tightly together into a moving, pulsing, gripping, entertainment that possesses much humor, frequent touches of pathos, adventure and thrills beyond number. The pivotal characters are played with a uniform excellence that is amazing. The familiar characters visualized in the drama are so flawlessly done that it ceases to be acting and becomes sheer reality. George Billings is the character star.

"K-The Unknown" will be the feature on Tuesday; "The Turmoil," on Thursday; and Bill Farnum in "The Conqueror" next Friday.

THE ROOSEVELT

The Roosevelt Theatre will present the "Four Dancing Chocolate Dandies," as a vaudeville feature this Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The picture special on Sunday will be Frank Lloyd's "The Silent Watcher." The story deals with the efforts of Joe Roberts, a young secretary to John Steele, lawyer and politician, to protect his employer from scandal, to assume the burden of responsibility for a murder he knew nothing of, and to hold the faith of his wife. Beside Love and Glenn Hunter are the stars.

"Tess of the D'Urbervilles" will be presented on Monday and Tuesday. Blanche Sweet is the star in this story of honor rooted in dishonor.

NEW DANCES SELECTED BY MASTERS ON WAY HERE

PARIS, France, Jan. 7.—Dance fans are promised something else to worry about as the "Jimmsha" and the "Huppa-Huppa" are reported on their way direct from Paris to make their debut in the United States. These were the dances that won highest approval at the International Dancing Masters Congress held in Paris.

Americans and Asiatics, Austrians, Englishmen, Belgians, Germans, Italians, Greeks and Brazilians—thirteen nations in all, have been taking part in the exchange of opinion which is to bring about a change in dance steps. Their first care was to revise the fashionable dances of the day and then to polish up and improve in some details the half a dozen steps to which the public remains faithful.

One delegation, that of Roumania, was even invested with an official mission from its government to draw up a sort of dancing code, making every dance, in name whether it be danced in Milan or Paris, Copenhagen or Bucharest. A rather heated debate followed the discussion of the rules of the tango, the German delegates refusing to subscribe to the "pas croise," otherwise known as the Apache strangle hold. But all agreed that the dancers must be at every close quarters as close as possible, in fact—so that they will sense each other's rhythm. It promises to be a "hug-me-tight" winter; but this of course bars the "strangle-hold," except in the balmusette.

The "Jimmska" gets its name from Professor Jimmy of Marseilles, a graceful Greek and president of the International Choreographic Union. It is really a super-tango, with pointed sidesteps, little tapping of the toes and a difficult halfturn, which will have to be much practiced.

A new five step, particularly difficult for beginners, but a charming drawing-room dance, was voted the best dance of the season, winning the day by thirty-eight votes. It was especially favored by the professors of central Europe. Two long steps another two other long ones, then a short one and two other long ones descr.be it. The "Huppa-hup pa" came in for second place, a Chilean dance, including a remarkable rose in which the dancer and his partner, both lean backward as far as possible without losing their balance. It bears the label "Made in France," for the author is Monsieur Plan, who demonstrated the dance at Deauville last summer.

Social Hygiene Book Week

By C. E. Minor

Demand for accurate and wholesome information about social hygiene has been so large since the recent Social Hygiene Institute that the week beginning January 12 has been set aside as Social Hygiene Book week and special efforts made to satisfy the demands for books and pamphlets on this subject.

The Public Library, The leading book stores and the Book Departments of Scruggs, Vandevoort, Barney, Famous Barr and Stix Baer and Fuller are co-operating with the Missouri Social Hygiene Association in this activity.

At the Main Library a display will be approved books on the subject will be in the lobby, while in the Assembly Room two volumes of the film, "The Gut of Life" will be held, the first on Tuesday morning, January 13 at 10:00 o'clock and the second on Thursday afternoon, January 15 at 3:30. Parents and teachers are invited to these showings.

It was announced by the Missouri Social Hygiene Association yesterday that a list of selected books on social hygiene has been compiled and will be sent without charge upon request. Copies of all of these books have been placed in stock by the leading book stores and may be seen and purchased at these stores during Social Hygiene Book Week. Included in the list are books for teachers, for parents, for religious leaders and social workers.

AN OLD TIMER

By Thos. Atkins

All old timer who knows about
The city's growth and spreading out;
Who sees things come and go
And of reviews the long ago.

He tells about his boyhood days,
And talks about the changing ways
The like a guide whose trade has gone,
And be a remnant left alone.

Who knows the day and ebb and flow,
Of every stranger, high and low.
And judges of their worth and the use
The good of bad, the false or true.

Just like the seeds whose soil is rich
Thou easily can tell on which is which,
Since he thrives on native stock.
The lone and banished from the flock.

SISTERS PERISH IN HIKE IN BELOW ZERO WEATHER

PUEBLO, Colo. Jan. 7—When Leona Washington, 22, and her sister Audrey, 15, did not reach home hours after they were ordered on the afternoon of a severe cold spell here their brother, Milton, went in search of them. About ten miles southeast of Model, less than two miles from the Washington home, he came upon their bodies in the snow. The tragedy of the death bespoke itself in the appearance of the two lifeless bodies frozen stiff, locked arm in arm. It was stated that the thermometer registered around 15 below zero when the girls started from Model to make the walk home.

HUSBAND KILLS WIFE

Mrs. Grace Mosley, 27 said by the police to live in the 4000 block of Cora avenue, was instantly killed Monday when shot by her husband, Albert Mosley, whose address is unknown. The shooting took place at the home of Oliver Cole, 4034 Evans avenue, where the Mosley women was visiting.

She had been in the place but a few minutes when her husband entered and, after asking her a few questions, fired two shots, both of which took effect in the chest, causing immediate death. Mosley fled following the shooting. The two have been separated for some time.

AUGUST HOTTEST MONTH DECEMBER COLDEST, 1924

Annual Meteorological Report Depicts Climatic Features.

Two of the outstanding climatic features of 1924 were the wet weather experienced from May to August inclusive and the severe cold weather in December, according to the annual meteorological report compiled by Meteorologist Alonzo Showalter. The report shows that the month opened with a severe cold and that there were only eight days in which a temperature above 50 was recorded. August was the hottest month, with twelve days above 90 and December was the coldest, with a low temperature of 4 degrees on December 29.

January had three days with temperatures as zero or below while December had two such cold days. Snow fell only six days, including a trace on April 1. The greatest snow fall during a single month and date was on March 20 when a fall of 8.0 inches was recorded. The total snow fall for March was 15.8 inches. October with 4.6 inches and November with 2.1 inches in December.

Rainfall with May showing a total of 6.8 inches and August 6.2 inches. The lowest precipitation was recorded in December, 0.2 inches. The average temperature for December was 34 degrees.

First Colored Woman Ph. D. Attends A. K. A. Meet

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 7—One of the distinguished members of the A. K. A. sorority attending the convention of that organization here last week was Dr. Georgiana R. Simpson, the first colored woman in this country to receive a "Ph. D. degree.

She received this honor June 14, 1921 from the University of Chicago. Later in the same month the University of Pengsylvania and Radcliffe College conferred this same degree upon Dr. Mossell and Dr. Eva Dykes respectively.

Dr. Simpson had her early education in the public schools of Washington, D. C. and later "travelled and studied abroad. Returning to her alma mater, in 1919 she spent two years in the graduate school earning in these two years an A. M. in Germanics and Romance and a Ph. D. with special emphasis on Germanic Literature.

Dr. Simpson is just bringing out a French text which she has edited with notes and vocabulary for High School and College classes.

Peace rules the day where reason rules the mind.

NEW YORK BABY WINS NATION-WIDE CONTEST

By Wm. Pickens

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Reuben Carter, Jr., of 206 W. 148th street, has won $50 in heavy gold, two twenties and a ten, as the first prize in the National Baby Contest conducted by the N. A. A. C. P. The nearest competitor to Reuben Jr., is Vernal Arnold, of Chesha, Ill., who has received the second prize of $25. There were six prizes in all.

But why shouldn't Reuben Carter Jr. win anything? Is not his dad a cop? And more than that, isn't his dad a traffic cop? And more still, he keeps the passage and peace at the 125th street and Lenox avenue, which means that he is one of the best traffic officers on earth.

The coolness, courage and dignity with which Reuben looked us squarely in the face as he closed the tiny fist over the three great gold coins on Christmas Eve, indicates that he is going to be an even great- er man than his Daddy.

George R. Smith College Wins Inter-State Debate

SEDALIA, Mo., Jan. 7—The Inter-State Literary Association, Kansas and the West are its annual meeting, December 29-31, at the First Baptist church, Kansas City, Kansas, featured an inter-state debate between Western University, Quindaro, and the Kansas Vocational institute of Topeka against two schools of Missouri, George R. Smith College and Lincoln University. Each of the four schools was to select one debater, Lincoln University and Topeka School failed to send representatives Substitutions were made. Some one from Kansas was substituted for Kansas Vocational Institute. George R. Smith having four contestants at the Inter-State.

The question of its number for Lincoln University. The debate then went on to regular form. The question was "Resolved that the United States was justified in its treatment of Japan by the Recent Immigration Law." Kansas had the affirmative

Smith getting first in declamation and Mr. Chas. W. Graham second in declamation and first in poetry.

The school won four of the six prizes offered.

President Hayes was chosen president of the Association for the next year.

GLEANINGS

Culled by Grandpa

Selfishness kills more people than cancer.

Selfishness first ruins the individual, then the nation.

Why is sin so rampant? Lack of faith in the promises of God.

The prayer meeting is the true test of the vitality of the church.

The love that does not touch the tongue and teach it charity does not come from God.

The wealth we gather here we leave behind. The character we make we keep, forever.

If half the energy which is devoted to social affairs were given to prayer, the world would be transformed in five years.

Always put off till to-morrow the mean act you thought of doing today.

Hello, Mabel.

Why how do you feel, Auntie? Very nice, Mabel, and where were you last evening?

Why, I think I must have been at the movies, when you called.

See a good picture?

Yes, very good and one that taught a great lesson. The picture was both profound and pathetic, but for several reasons, I could not enjoy it, as I should have.

What are the reasons, Mabel?

Well, in the first place, I sat next to a grown-up, who persisted in reading aloud every word flashed on the screen. Again a large number of the audience laughed out hilariously, when to my mind, it was the time for silence, if not for tears, because the picture portrayed the saddest side of every day life of men and women. Last but not least, I was constantly annoyed by the large number of children present, who talked incessantly when they should have been at home in bed.

I am sorry to know this, but I have had similar experiences. I can not understand why any grown person would be so thoughtless and so lacking in the knowledge of that, which is due those around them.

No one can enjoy a picture with the proper way, when one around them is reading aloud and it is absolutely impossible for one doing it, to get anything out of it. The most pathetic thing to me though, is to hear any one laugh at a time when they should be serious. We, as a group, have been accused of failing to see the serious side of anything. I hate to think it, but at times, I am forced to believe that it is true of quite a few of us. People who are gay and giddy all the time and who appear incapable of concentration at any time, cannot keep pace with those who are the opposite. Now, the matter of the children, has grown to be serious. The parents of these children, are guilty of a grave offense. In the first place, these children, boys and girls, are permitted to attend unaccompanied at any hour. This should not be permitted. I question the right of any women to style herself mother, who will permit a child, as young as 7 years, to walk the streets of St. Louis unaccompanied after dark. I have noticed them, time after time, come in at an hour, when they should have been in bed, and have wished so much that I could form the acquaintance of the parents. It is the duty of a parent, especially a mother to be the Censor for her child in the matter of the movies. She should know what her child sees and know that the child is seeing the proper picture. Instead, they are permitted to see any and every kind of picture and I have noticed that they applaud loudly whenever any thing of a risque nature appears on the screen, no matter how suggestive or how unsuggestive it may be, if it is at least, bit improper. My dear child, this is a most serious thing but I trust some of the guilty parents will read this and profit by it. Now I'm attending with their tots or keeping them at home. The children of today, Mabel, are the men and women of tomorrow and to be the right sort must have proper training from infancy to manhood.

I agree with you Auntie, but must say, goodbye.

Good-bye, Mabel.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the many friends for the kindness shown me at the time of the death of my father, Frank Roberson, who died December 23. Especially do I thank the Waiters Alliance for the floral offerings, Scott, undertaker, for the excellent service rendered, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Anderson and Mr. Red Scott for the acts of kindness during his last days.

More of kindness, less of creeds;
That is what the old world needs
Friendly handshakes, firm and warm,
Never did a bit of harm.
Hearty words of friendliness
Never hurt a man, I guess
And a smile, instead of frown,
Never pushed a fellow down!

Less of talk and more of deeds,
That is what the old world needs
Less of quarreling over views,
More or less of fitting others' blues.
Less of patronizing airs,
More of love that lightens cares,
Less of heaven's why and how,
More of making good right now!

As memory recalls how death bore you away.
And left us in tears, in grief and in woe,
When we stood by your bed, just one year ago.
There are griefs that cannot find comfort,
And wounds that cannot be healed;
There are sorrows so deep in the human heart
That cannot be revealed.

You bade good-bye to none;
Your loving heart had ceased to beat,
Before we knew that you had gone.
We never thought that on that day
Our dear father and husband would be called away.
For all of us you did your best
Until the angels took you home to rest;
Father, we miss you everywhere
Miss your advice, love and care,
A faithful father, so kind and true
We always pray and think of you
Days of sadness oft come o'er us
Tears in silence often flow,
Friends may think the world is healed
But they little know the grief within our hearts concealed.

Texas Leads Elementary School Basketball Series

The elementary schools basket ball tournament was resumed this week, only one game on the card was played, however. In which the young misses' teams from Dumas showed much improvement over the opening set shown yet in the series. They overwhelmingly defeated their opponents by a score of 24-2, thus taking the undisputed leadership of the groups.

The games are played every Tuesday afternoon, spectators being encouraged to attend.

YOUNG COLORED ATHLETE BURIED WITH MUCH HONOR

ROCKFORD, Ill., Jan. 7.—Bill Garrett, acclaimed one of the greatest high school athletes of the state of Illinois, who died here December 31, two weeks after an attack of pneumonia set in on him, was buried here last week. The funeral was held at the Court St. Methodist Episcopal church, while the entire high school students, who had been Garrett's companions in athletic work, bore the body to its final resting place. Telegrams and letters of sympathy were received from every corner of the state, while flowers came in continuous streams. Over a thousand persons attended the funeral of the well known star.

mas in St. Louis by the name of Charles W. Shaver, whose office is 702 Columbia Building, deposit $500, and Shaver would furnish the means with which she could get large sums of money. On her return to Chicago she was given a piece of paper which purported to be an oil lease in Arkansas, but was found to be worthless. She then visited the St. Louis Better Business Bureau, from which she received no relief.

Consults Attorney Garner

She was then advised by a friend to go to Atty. S. E. Garner. On her visit to him she was told by him that the $1,000 was gone and he could not see how he could be recovered, but he would bring suit to recover the money from Gladstone and Shaver. Suit was brought and after going into several "trances" Gladstone was advised by his "astral body" to return the money and pay the cost of court. At least, this is what Gladstone and Shaver did. Now Mrs. Tullgass is only $1,000 wiser in experience, whereas had it not been for the suit she would be out of $1000.

gressional Committee is exceptional by reason of its size and the task it undertaks and maintain an organized resistant, financed campaign against the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Mr. Johnson called attention to the recent publication by the N. A. A. C. P. of "Rope and Faggot," by Walter White, and "Flight," by Rudolph Fisher, and "The Walls of Jericho," by Miss Fauset.

The New Bill and Mr. Johnson's comments on it: Mr. Johnson said:

"The Dyer Bill is a drastic measure and is the result of the most careful study by the best lawyers we could get together. It is the only practical measure that has been proposed to stop lynching. It is the only measure that has a chance of passing. It is the only measure that has been drawn in such a way as to meet the objections of the Supreme Court of the United States to the Federal Anti-Lynching Bill of 1922

ENTERING THE NEW YEAR

As we enter upon the threshold of another year, let us do so with a full realization of the new duties and new responsibilities which the new year brings to us. New hopes and new aspirations will be ours.

Judging the future by the past we feel safe in saying that 1925 will see many changes in human affairs. Just how these things will affect us will depend largely upon our own efforts. If we are to rise to the height of our possibilities, our efforts must be directed in the right directions. To do this, we must have safe and wise leadership; not the kind that merely moves along the lines of least resistance, in an apologetic way, but the kind that is tempered with zeal for the deliverance of this people—the kind that puts the people's interest above self.

1924 brought wonderful advancement for the race, especially in politics. 1925 may determine what this advancement will mean to us. Because of our peculiar place in the life of the nation, more will be expected of us in our acts to prove our worth.

MR. BARRETT'S SUGGESTION

We think that Hon. Jesse W. Barrett, former Attorney General of this state, has made a very good suggestion as to the crying need of adequate laws of this state to punish members of mobs who take the law into their own hands to mete out mob justice to any one for alleged commission of a crime.

The state can always, as a rule, find one member of a mob, and that is in the person of the sheriff, who is more or less an accessory before the fact. Just a simple law calling for summary removal of a sheriff who allows the mob to take a prisoner from him, and a penalty on the county in which the sheriff holds office, will break up lynching parties in this state post haste.

There is no doubt but that when one sheriff is removed, and the county penalized, mob law will be gone to stay. If Mr. Barrett will draw such a bill, and use his influence to get it passed, we are quite sure it will be successful in this, the 53rd General Assembly of the Missouri Legislature.

ANOTHER STEP FORWARD

We have seen, for the second time, a member of the colored race occupy a seat in the law-making body of this state. We noticed that Walthall M. Moore was not quite the curiosity in 1925 that he was in 1921, when he first was elected as state representative. His colleagues seemed to accept his presence as a law-maker as a matter of course rather than their attitude four years ago.

This, to our minds, marks another step forward for the race, not only in Missouri, but throughout the country because men and women of other races are not used to seeing Negroes hold places of honor and trust as do other men and women. It is quite natural that the more they see members of our race in these places, conducting themselves like gentlemen and ladies, the more it is bound to command the esteem and respect of others.

Mr. Moore, because of his race, will be in a position to render a peculiar service to the state and, incidentally, to his people. He will be an expression of our hopes and aspirations as no other member of that law-making body can be. All the people should, therefore, be justly proud to see him there at this time.

NEGRO INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

We have read some extracts from the annual report of the Negro Industrial Commission with a deal of interest.

This report shows a remarkable spirit of sacrifice and devotion on the part of the members in their efforts to serve the state from a racial viewpoint. Information, concrete information backed up by facts, is what the state wants concerning the Negroes. The Commission is the proper agency through which this information can be had. It is the duty, therefore, of the state to furnish adequate means wherewith the committee can properly, thereby enabling it to render more efficient service to the state.

In a train wreck out West recently, it seems that a desperate struggle was made to save life. The white people forgot they were white, and the colored forgot they were colored. All were reduced to a common level. It reminds us of the saying: "A touch of the power of God makes all human beings akin."

Where we all can join in, both Democrats and Republicans, in a solid phalanx for better educational advantages for all the children of the state, regardless of race, creed or color.

Don't be deceived, the Ku Klux Klan is still fighting for place and power, and once enthroned, Lord help us.

A little less of self and a little more for the race, on the part of some of the world-be leaders, would go a long way toward solving our problems.

The past is gone forever; the present is past before we can announce it, the future is darker than midnight—so where are we?

There was doubtless something "rotten" about that Motlow trial. The public continues to condemn the outcome of it.

Sure Phil Brockman has made a good Police Commissioner. Let the crowd say, "I Say So."

The latest announcement is, that if Mayor Kiel doesn't run for mayor, this year, Director of Public Welfare, Nelson C. Cunliff will. Henry has an eye for business; hold the office, or name the man.

Don't be sure that you are going to do the other fellow; there are others who are figuring on doing you.

It makes little or no difference whether the sheriff of Mississippi County or his deputies with him, are able to identify any members of the mob that lynched a Negro boy in Charleston recently. The outstanding fact in the case is that neither of them did their full duty in protecting the life of their prisoner.

Praises Argus For Finding Motlow's Criminal Record

We are pleased to note that the Censor published by Geo. C. Dyer has, and is still turning in on his famous or infamous Lem Motlow case.

Last week, the Censor cites the fact that it was the St. Louis Argus that dug up and exposed the criminal record of Motlow in Tennessee and also cites the fact that Circuit Attorney Sidener failed to do his duty in the prosecution of the case.

Under the caption "Lem Motlow Case Grows in Infamy," the Censor has this to say:

"Every day adds a new chapter of shame and disgrace to the history of the notorious Lem Motlow case. All things considered, what could have been more shameless and more dirty, more indecent than the sending by Motlow of a Christmas turkey to every member of the jury that acquitted him? It was not as bad, of course, as if he had bestowed the gifts before the verdict was rendered, but to a great many people, it is still "payment" or discharge of obligation under which Motlow seems to have considered himself to the jurymen. If they simply discharged their duty, it was an insult to confer a benediction on them; if they did not discharge their duty, the bestowal of such gifts was in the nature of a proclamation that they failed in their duty to the state and were entitled to reward for so failing.

"But that is the least of the features of shame that have developed in the career of the Chattanooga boss. Tuesday, December 23, there appeared a long statement in which Circuit Attorney Sidener "admits" he blundered in not developing at the trial the fact that Motlow had several times been under indictment for violations of the law in Tennessee; that he had twice been convicted and sentenced to jail terms. Mr. Sidener's explanation of the matter is a lame and halting one. He blames Judge Hamilton for not feature in the fact that Motlow was—and is—under indictment in St. Louis for alleged connection with the theft of whiskey from the Jack Daniels distillery warehouse. At the same time he admits he made no effort to learn anything about the convictions in Tennessee.

Sidener Admits Failure

"It is difficult to understand how a putative lawyer can continue to hold the office of public prosecutor, when he is forced to make such confession. One of the very men who rushed to the front as a character witness for Motlow, and declared him to be a great and good citizen, was governor of Tennessee at the time Motlow was convicted, and came to the rescue of Motlow with an executive pardon. Sidener did not discover that—admits he made no effort to discover—until the matter was uncovered long after the trial of Motlow. The actual trial lasted over a week. The Motlow case has been before the public ever since the perpetration of the crime. Why were not the facts delved into, and the record of the killer uncovered.

Argus Digs up Record

"Another feature of the case is the position in which the St. Louis daily papers have placed themselves. To make this plain, let us recall the alleged "discovery" of Motlow's record backward: The Globe-Democrat printed the story with Sidener's admission on December 23, Tuesday. The G.-D. is continuously boasting of its enterprise. Why did it not send a special correspondent to Motlow's Tennessee home and dig up his record? There was abundant time for this between the perpetration of the killing and the trial of the killer. Why did not the Globe-Democrat discover this record until after the St. Louis Star had printed it, on Monday, December 22? The G.-D. had the audacity to steal it from the Star. Why did not the Star, at some time between the killing and the trial, send a man to dig up Motlow's record. The paper is very boastful of its journalistic enterprise. Why did not the Star discover the record before the St. Louis Argus, a Negro weekly paper, printed the whole story on Saturday, December 20? Why did the Star steal the story from the Negro publication and print it two days after it had been printed in the Argus? Must that whole matter over, and try to realize what a lovely bunch of journalistic sloths afflict St. Louis.

"Naturally the question must arise where rests the chief blame for this failure to uncover Motlow's record? Was it just lack of enterprise, or was it deliberately done? There is no exculpation of Sidener for failure in his public duty. He draws a large salary for doing exactly the thing he did not do in this case. But the daily papers claim to serve the public, and proclaim themselves to be instruments in justice. Were they all asleep at the switch? If so, what kind of dope was administered to them, and who administered it?"

THE MOTLOW CASE

St. Louis, December 30, 1924

Editor St. Louis Argus:

Dear Sir: In your issue of the week of December 13, 1924, you ran an editorial under the caption, "Who is To Blame In The Motlow Case?" On the ground of your oft repeated statements to one of your desire to have the St. Louis Argus stand for truth, honor, fairness and justice, I am taking this means of pointing out portions of the article in question, what do not harmonize with two of those much desired principles, i. e., "fairness and justice."

The Circuit Attorney is charged with "failure to properly handle the Motlow case in that he did not look up and present to the jury and the Court, the criminal record of Lem Motlow."

A man, under the laws of our country, does not have a criminal record that is readily available to the police department, until he has been an inmate of some penal institution a day or some, so that a record can be made. Under the system of tracing the criminals of this country, the police department maintains an identification bureau in which is kept records and photographs of criminals from all parts of the world, and the records in this department are kept as perfect as it is possible for human agency to keep them.

When an information is issued, or an indictment returned against a man, it happens to be my duty to immediately write the police to ascertain whether or not the person charged has a prior criminal record. This procedure was followed in the Motlow case, and the reply to my letter stated that there was no record against Motlow in the bureau. The conviction of Motlow in his home town where he holds sway as a magnate, czar and dispenser of whiskery, is considered a crime by some of the "best blood" of the south, as was evidenced by the manner in which he was eulogized by some of that so-called best blood at his trial here, as well as by the prompt pardon granted him by the then governor of his home state.

While the Court records no doubt show the conviction and affirmation of that conviction, the prison records do not show that he ever went ten minutes behind the bars, and a man is protected by the presumption of innocence, until the last Court, or pardoning power has refused him relief.

The office of the Circuit Attorney is dependent upon the police department for its record of criminals brought to bar for the first time, and the police department is dependent upon the co-operation of police departments of other cities, but please bear in mind, that Lem Motlow is a "southern gentleman," and not considered a criminal in Lynchburg, Tenn. It is much easier to charge a man with crime than it is to prove him guilty. It is much easier to criticise than it is to perform. Your editorial further states that "the prosecution was one sided and unprepared for the case in question." This statement goes too far by way of allegation, and not far enough by way of fact. If your informant, who received his information from others, was sincere at heart, he would have called at the office of the Circuit Attorney and learned the facts first hand, and the facts they are, would have made different reading. In all fairness editorials reflecting upon public officials should not be written upon theory, but upon true facts as ascertained by careful investigation, and in this connection I beg to remind you that the records in the office of the Circuit Attorney, and all information to which other newspapers are entitled, is open to the St. Louis Argus.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE R. JONES,
Deputy Circuit Attorney.

MUSIC, ART, DRAMA AND LITERATURE

By RICHARD JACKSON

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY . . .

How are colored citizens inclined towards theatrical art and just what has it to offer them. This rather terse question as flatly stated and irrelevant as it may seem, is one that should weigh heavily on the conscience of all those everyday philosophers of life, who are enthusiastic advocates of the simple mode of living. Wear old rubbers, put on your heavy clothing, be careful of wifey's home-brew, don't get married, a thousand other such don'ts and do's are the daily commandments that compass the life of the usual "hog-tied" human, who wonders after all if there is such a thing as "self reliance" which Emerson so beautifully illudicates. There is little room for the twentieth century mind to turn to pondering and meditating on the higher value and worth of a given situation as the old timers of the days of the cheerful old heartbrand the friendly clay pipe. The solution now-a-days is simply follow the leader to such an extent that most channels of public information are becoming intensely didactic. So it is that the innocent reader who might later through curiosity, or per chance through a real interest, accepted the interrogation at the beginning of the column and continued to read on find that he is within the realm of the modern legality and thus allow some worthwhile consideration to the writer's views.

Theatrical art is not altogether a new thing with the Negro for one can trace the presence of outstanding colored stars down even from the days of slavery, the late Bert Williams being the most familiar figure with the present generation. The Negro's relation to theatrical work has undergone a revolution in the past decade however, that has given broad allincations to his interest an importance in theatrical art. Today one finds him starring in every form of drama of the modern legality and thus allow some worthwhile consideration to the writer's views.

Theatrical art is not altogether a new thing with the Negro for one can trace, the presence of outstanding colored stars down even from the days of slavery, the late Bert Williams being the most familiar figure with the present generation. The Negro's relation to theatrical work has undergone a revolution in the past decade however, that has given broad allincations to his interest an importance in theatrical art. Today one finds him starring in every form of play, from light comedies to tearing tragedies—Florence Mills, Valladi Snow, Paul Robeson and Charles Gipin, the latter who will appear here soon, being brilliant exponents. The colossal pageant, as has been demonstrated by the successful production of "Miles stone", also a gratifying achievement of the Negro in the theatre.

Coming to the dear old home-town, one finds a favorable situation for the development of a wonderful center of Negro theatrical art, but, considering this advantage there is a dire lack of initiative of the part of the citizens to negotiate for such. It has been well established that the city has within its bounds considerable unusual dramatic talent; talent that if properly fostered and catered to, would give St. Louis one of the greatest mediums for a broad and substantial development of its manhood and womanhood. It is obvious—that for a colored citizen to receive the very best in drama they must have a local company or companies of their own, capable of producing such, for it is impossible to obtain qualified troupes of Colored actors from over the country to meet all desire, so scarce they are and so great the demand. Of course the problem of adequate facilities for the carrying on of such an enterprise is almost as serious as the question of securing good actors. This is where the colored citizens could play their part by building and operating community theatres. The collapse of such a plan, here obviously, would of course condemned it forever in St. Louis, most likely, for it is as Mark Anthony said, "not to hope, however" that the finger of Mrs. Hoover's plans for a stately theatre will not be another bubble and that there shall be a new era of prosperity in the realm of Negro dramatics in St. Louis as well as over the entire country.

As for the benefits of the theatre to society, let us refer to the contention of a great English Dramatist, Laurence Irving, who died several years ago. Mr. Irving made the following lecture a new era of prosperity in the realm of Negro dramatics in St. Louis as well as over the entire country.

"As it is with our moral qualities, so it is with the institutions which minister to our wants or supply our pleasure; and as is the case with all other arts, so it is with the theatre. The theatre can diffuse light and high imaginative sustenance, or it can pour forth streams of debasement and pollution. "The true function of the stage is to strengthen men in high resolves, to expand their sympathies and, in the case of the comedy, to correct their follies and to keep their minds healthily poised. A great cry for the draining of social quagmires that pollute the air we breathe and the ground we tread on is going up in all lands and from all manner of people. And the stage is rightly taking its share in stirring the conscience evils. The theatre has in a hundred and one directions sought to bring home to our consciousness the preventability of much misery that clogs the wheels of the world, and in doing so the modern theatre has incurred the stigma of being sordid, squalid, cheerless, distressful. It has dwelt much upon modern life, its base and ruthless pursuit of money, its vulgar material standards, which are answerable for that unlovely thing, the spirit from which works of the highest art spring. It is only the small slugger or dramatist who is able to sit aloof and turn his pipe of manipulate the puppets of his imagination, whilst hundreds of thousands are born in the mire, live in it and die in it.

"It is not to be wondered at that many great creative artist has ever been satisfied with the creed of "Art, for Art's Sake." The big men are first and best for the welfare of their fellows, and so take up in their hearts; and from that divine sentiment are being born such terrible arraignments of modern conditions, such as resonate pleas for amelioration as "Resurrection", as many burning passages in "Les Miserables," as Tolstoi's "Dominion of Darkness", in drama, as the bulk if the work of Galsworthy and Brieux, and many more. Yet we must hold to the belief that the travail unrest now permeating one mind almost as it does ours, will eventually bring forth a state in which toil and leisure will be fairly adjusted between man and man; and that out of such a social redistribution of forces, a greater proportion proportion and control in the creation of great works of universal Art.

"This in the theatre, as in every other art, we must keep our lamps burning, so that when the cleansing fire of high passionate dramatic work is again kindled in our midst, as surely it will be again offered to us as it was in the days of Shakespeare and the days of Moliere, we may as actors, be found properly equipped to interpret to the utmost finish of our art—fire, diction, clear enunciation, appropriate gestures, eloquent facial play—the renascent work of our writers.

"I say there is every sign of revival of a more joyous, a more care-free art, and our civic and social life is indistinctly shaping itself in our direction of giving and receiving high artistic enjoyment. Only as we move forward along the path of social amelioration can we hope for a theatre for all citizens—all free animosities of races and nations, which shall found distinctions on a basis of conduct and attainment and not of birth, which shall teach science to follow its salutary labours without torturing the bodies of our humbler fellow-creatures—that is when war, smoke-born and civilized, no religious or the shameful lingers of cannibalism, voodoo, witchcraft and other excesses of the barbarous ages—when the diffusion of knowledge shall as regards to our ensuring to one another, and the sweet tenets of Buddhism as regards our kinship to the animal world—when the whole human race materially progress what it should be, a source of wise peace, of lightness and of increased recreation for all, then again I think we shall enter the Palace of Art whose service has been very beautifully described by the Tithelon poet, Tagore:

"My heart is full and I feel that happiness is simple like a meadow flower. We grow with it, crush it, and crush it; we jump upon it in our mad pursuit and miss it forever."

DEPUTY DIAGNE TO BEGIN LECTURE TOUR IN APRIL

Most Important Figure Of The Race In Contemporary National History, Will Speak Here.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—Deputy Blaise Diagne, former High Commissioner of French Colonial Troops, will begin his lecture tour in the United States the early part of April, according to a report from Rayford W. Logan, statesman and Phi Beta Kappa graduate from William and Mary College, who will accompany him throughout the trips. Washington, D. C.; Baltimore, Md.; New York; Detroit; Cleveland, Chicago; Kansas City, Mo., and St. Louis, are the cities listed on the lecture tour at present.

Arrangements are being made to have Boston, Philadelphia, Indianapolis, Columbus O., Cincinnati, O., and Louisville, Ky. included in the itinerary.

The high esteem in which Mr. Diagne is held by the Chamber of Deputies is shown by the fact that he has served as a member of the Committee on Military Affairs and Chairman of the Committee on Colonial Affairs. This latter honor makes Mr. Diagne the most important figure of the Colored race in contemporary national history.

Mr. Logan stated that Mr. Diagne is enthusiastic over the lecturing tour of this country because it will give him an opportunity to bring greetings from the colored subjects of France and to gather first information of the Colored race in the United States.

Lawyer Sentenced On Embezzlement Charges

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 7.—A sentence of nine months in jail was passed on John W. Burns, one of this city's leading Negro lawyers for two charges of embezzlement brought by Wm. M. Duers and Robt. West. A further charge brought by the Southern Bank in which Parks was accused of trying to extort the sum out of $900, was thrown out of court by the President of the bank, Major R. Wright, because of lack of evidence.

Robbery Is Believed Motive In Murder Of Miser

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 7.—The police have been conducting an unsuccessful search for the murderers of "Uncle John" Biggs, 80-year-old Negro who was found dying of a fractured skull in his home at 2028 Jefferson Street.

It is thought that "Uncle John", who has long been regarded as a miser, was murdered by robbers. Huge sums alleged to have been kept by the quaint old recluse, were missing except for nine $10 gold pieces sewed in a small sack attached to a string around his neck. It is believed the robbers thought this was his fortune and didn't molest it.

RAJAH PRATAP TO TEACH NEW RELIGIOUS CREED

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Rajah Maheire Pratpa entered this country from Europe last week, bringing with him a faith which he calls the religion of love. He has traveled all over the eastern World, leading this new belief and now hopes to establish it in America.

The religion of love as presented in his book is one free from any taint of racial prejudice. All men are the children of one common father and were meant to dwell upon the earth in love and at peace with each other.

One especially interesting feature about this religion of love is that it has no quarrel with any other branch of religion. He teaches that the cause back of all religion is the same, that is, every one was founded to make mankind better, and the ultimate goal is happiness, therefore it is unnecessary that one should have anything against the other.

COLORED CATHOLICS FORM NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—A permanent enactment of the National Catholic Welfare Council here is declared to have effected a permanent organization of the colored Catholics of the United States, binding together over 50,000 Negro members.

The purpose of the organization is to bring about a closer relation and better feeling among all Catholic Negroes to advance the cause of Catholic education throughout the Negro population, and to raise the general church status of the Negro to a larger participation in racial and civic affairs.

Representatives participating in the enactment bringing about the national organization were principally from the Catholic Knights of St. John.

NEGRO PLANTER SLAIN BY MISSISSIPPI MOB

MEHLINGER, Miss., Jan. 7.—Another victim was added to the recent wave of lynching that resulted in the death of a 15-year-old boy in Nashville and a 20-year-old man in Charleston, Mo., when James E. Mehlinger, prominent planter and merchant, was instantly killed here.

Mehlinger was standing in his store with his father, when a group of armed white men came up and fired through the window, killing him instantly and slightly wounding his father. No motive could be given for the crime and no arrests were made.

Mehlinger's body was shipped to Washington for burial. He is survived by one brother, Capt. Louis R. Mehlinger, an assistant attorney in the Federal Department of Justice at Washington, D. C.; his father and mother; a wife and three children; and a sister, Mrs. Mayme C. White, a teacher in the public schools of the District of Columbia.

Rosenwald Fund Aided The Building Of 560 Negro Schools In South In 1924

Preston News Service

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 7.—Five hundred and sixty southern Negro schools were built in 1924 by the aid of the Julius Rosenwald fund at the end of the calendar year, it was announced last Tuesday by S. L. Smith of Nashville, general agent for the fund, which was founded by the Chicago philanthropist.

This total of 560 cost $2,600,000 and compares with 464 built in 1923 at a cost of $2,246,000.

Mr. Rosenwald bears 20 per cent of the cost of building these schools. They are being erected on an average of three each day in the fourteen southern states. The philanthropy was founded by the wealthy Jewish merchant of Chicago in 1917.

HORSE COST FIVE CENTS IS SOLD FOR $3,700

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 7.—A lay colt, Pete Green, which less than 2 years ago was thrown in a deal at a voluntary remuneration of five cents, was sold for $3,700 here by Walter Candler, a local horseman.

Pete Green, now five years old, has been a consistent winner on the turf. He is capable of clipping off a mile in 2.00½.

The curfew of Time tolls the knell of another parting year. Looking backward, the record is filled with days of tremendous achievements, which serve to mark a new era in development, and give permanent inspiration for a much larger program in 1925. Colored America in THIS hemisphere, the sleeper wakes! The next decade may rise usher in the millenium, but everywhere there are new visions of opportunity and progress, and to these new cries is to be added here in America, a measure of good will that even the optimist of five years ago would have hesitated to prophesy.

America's Mind

The mind of America has been brought to it new pictures of racial life. These pictures have been presented in many different ways, and from all sections of the country. The white mind is discovering the black mind. The discovery has aroused two divisions of white people; those who would bear down with the heel of oppression, and those would see good judgment and even safety for national welfare in the light of reel torches—by meeting out justice, fair and square, to all people under the folds of the stars and stripes. The oppressor has had a long day—and now retires to give place to common sense.

Organizations

Colored America is better organized than ever before. Interlocking group leadership is proving effective, and it is a well-known fact that the time is here when Colored America can send an effective message from the end of the nation to the other in twenty-four hours through various organized bodies.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People remains the most potent civic organization. The Association, indifferently efficient has sought more than ever to reflect the will and opinion of the people, and direct their cause before the bar of public opinion. There has been some bold criticism concerning the political activities of association officers, but there is no question that as individuals they have the right to exercise personal preferences, and that the organization, as such, is never used for political party preferences. Thoughtful leadership throughout the country agreed that the Association has a well defined purpose to serve in behalf of the people, and that it is to the distinct advantage of the general public to continue loyal support.

The National Negro Business League held its twenty-fifth anniversary or Silver Jubilee in Chicago, in August. This was not only the largest attended session but the most constructive. Final reports were heard from the committees organizing the National Negro Finance Corporation, a $1,000,000 institution for relief of racial business enterprises in times of distress, and the encouragement of commercial growth. This financial organization recently held a very successful session in Durham, N. C., where the home offices are located, and the results of this session will be seen in the coming events of 1925.

The National Urban League, in another sense, acts as a liaison between the two racial groups largely in industrial and welfare matters. This organization because of the nature of its work is confined for the most part to activities in large centers of population. It serves these centers most in adjustments, better understanding and opening new opportunities. The contacts in these respects have proved invaluable.

The Negro Sanhedrin. Dr. Kelly Miller, president, held a session in Chicago in February. This meeting was the result of numerous conferences by the committee of a number of national organizations and other leaders. It was well attended and representative of the present day viewpoint of the majority of Colored Americans. The report to the country formed a basis of action, if carried out, that will put the group in a fair light before the world, and will open up new fields of opportunity and cooperative efforts that will be of lasting advantage. After action of the Sanhedrin has not been as aggressive as hoped and hoped, but Dean Miller has very recently informed the Associated Negro Press that activities are well in the making. Mutual understanding and unity of action will give power to the growth of any people. Colored America is ready for a large degree of both.

There are many other organizations, including the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs, the National Medical Association, the National Recreational Society, that are doing improving their increased usefulness to the racial group. They are not mere paper bodies seeking occasional publicity, but they are well organized, functioning bodies giving vital assistance to a people's development.

Good Will Observation Tour

In the spring, a Good Will observation tour, in a special Pullman, began in New York, going to Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Raleigh, Durham, Columbia, Spartanburg, Atlanta, Tuskegee, Montgomery, Birmingham, Memphis, Nashville, Louisville, Indianapolis and Chicago. This tour not only afforded the participants a fine opportunity to study the racial progress of the South but it afforded the south a fine opportunity to better understand the Sanhedrin. Attaches of the North. Every courtesy was extended throughout the tour, and the cordiality of the white South, both in public and private, in these communities occasioned much gratification.

The Field of Sport

The general public has been more or less interested in Negro sport, but the sporting pages, but the daily press has not yet measured up in the proper recognition, except in prize fights. Tom Wilkinson Rich, for example, had wide newspaper publicity, but the National Negro Baseball World Series which brought together thousands of people from all over the country, was practically ignored in the daily press. Rube Foster, great baseball figure, states that more than $1,500,000, has been spent in admissions during the last four years of organized racial baseball. Each year more than 30,000 people attend these Howard-Lincoln baseball classic, either in Washington or Philadelphia, going to the game from all sections of the United States. A number of successful automobile races have been given this year under Colored management. In the field of sport Colored America can furnish plenty of entertainment and plenty of class wherever the opportunity is given, and the Negro is taking advantage of prejudice in managing his own activities. In some cases Jewish and Italian promoters have caught the idea of success.

Erection of Buildings

The year 1924 is outstanding for the construction of new buildings by racial capital, and by cooperative capital for the advantage of Colored American progress. These buildings range all the way from one story structures to twenty-seven stories. The Knights of Pythias building now in course of erection in Chicago at a cost of more than $1,250,000, to the National headquarters of the Knights of Pythias is the most prodigious commercial structure ever undertaken by the Colored people. The architect, engineers and laborers are Negroes. The Elks in New York, the Elks and Masons in Birmingham, the Woodmen of Union and Knights of Pythias in Hot Springs, the Masons and Royal Circle, of Chicago, have recently completed, or have under construction other large structures.

Many universities and colleges have erected new buildings; there has been seemingly, no end to the erection of religious edifices. In the matter of new church structures, New York leads with the Abyssinian Baptist, St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal and Mother Zion A. M. E., the combined cost of the three structures exceeding a million dollars. $1,000,000. There has been a decided increase in the construction of individual homes and apartments in cities.

Business Development

Colored America has had an unusual year of political activity. In a national way, all of the big parties including the Democratic, sought to get the vote of racial citizens. The manner in which these votes were sought discloses a new day, politically, for the race. President Calvin Coolidge has been unusually active in trying to prove that he is president of all the people. He has counseled with Colored leaders from all sections of the country, and his attitude of fairness has been reflected in the public expressions he has made from time to time. The nomination of a Republican member for Congress in New York, who was not elected, and the election of a Municipal Judge, a member of the state Senate and four members of the House of Representatives in the legislature of Illinois, are outstanding achievements. Ohio, New York, West Virginia, and Massachusetts are other states electing members of the legislature.

William C. Matthews and his associates, who directed the recent Republican campaign, have preserved a group of seventeen requests to work out for racial advancement during the coming administration of President Coolidge. These subjects of request have created nation-wide comment, the most of which has been favorable and optimistic. Some have claimed that they are for prestation but the general opinion seems to be in line with Emerson's urge to "Hitch your wagon to a star." Larger political participation everywhere is the prospect for Colored America as a result.

Racial Publicity

In private comment, a white business man spoke to a member of the group in his employ: "What the Negro needs most is a great salesman, one who will sell the race to the Negro. When this is done, watch his smoke." That is organized as a fine suggestion, and likewise, it is believed there should be another great salesman, one who will sell the Negro to the white people of America. While in the race, salesmen are being developed and there seems to be a finer understanding today of the achievements of the race than ever before. There is yet much to be done. The results are being disclosed in the extensive publicity engaged in by leading business firms, to the high order of their advertising matter, and the wise realization that money expended for publicity is an investment and not a charity.

Great national advertisers have discovered almost a virgin field in Negro business. Perusal of the Colored newspapers will disclose that national advertisers who a few years ago scarcely laughed at the possibility of black business, are now expending thousands of dollars a week in reaching it. Colored America, in practically every line of productive business has proved to an excellent patron, with more money that it was thought it had to expend for the necessities, as well as luxuries of life. The tone of the advertisements with illustrations, has greatly improved.

Newspapers, Magazine and Books

One unmistakable sign of progress is measured by the amount of reading a group may engage in. By this sign, Colored America has a very fine percentage. The circulation of racial newspapers, and the number of them, has increased. The circulation of the magazines has increased, and the number of them, has increased. The number of books by Negro authors has increased, and the number of them has increased. The demand for books by Negro authors has increased, and the number of them has increased. The demand for books by Negro authors has increased, and the number of them has increased.

Banks, Insurance and Investments

"It takes money to make the world go 'round." For the world of Colored America, there is no exception to the rule. Therefore, it is necessary to deal with banks, and to have banks and all the other necessaries of material progress. While capital has been very shy in extending its service to Negro investments. Here and there are found exceptions, but the general rule remains the rule. Consequently, there has been a tendency to develop investment organizations, and banking business within the race. There has been some progress, but in comparison with the actual needs there has hardly been a start. The National Negro Finance Corporation is a new venture sponsored by the National Negro Business League. Dr. R. R. Moton, of Tuskegee, president, and C. C. Spaulding of the famous Durham, N. C., group, chairman of the board, will seek to supply as much important need in Negro commercial development. In the insurance field gratifying advances have been made. Approximately a million dollars in new capital has been added by the formation of new companies or the enlargement of old ones. The combination above, the North Carolina Mutual reports an income of two million dollars for 1924 and forty-six millions worth of business in force. Industrial insurance is perhaps the largest single business endeavor in which the race is engaged and their benefits are not to be measured alone in the protection they give the home but in the money they loan on property, the employment they furnish young men and women and the support which they give Negro business.

Music—The Great Soul Force

There are those who believe that music is to be one of the great forces in bringing about fair recognition of Colored America. This belief is based on experience and concrete facts. Music has always been a power in moving hearts of many people, but it never more influential than in the music of Colored America. From the early history of America, down to the present, Colored musicians of varying degrees of talent, have caught the fancy of white America, and in many cases, produced a feeling of respect that has been of lasting benefit. In recent years this musical consideration has held range all the way from jazz to grand opera, from the plaintive "Old Folks at Home" to Marian Anderson. It has found listeners in the syncopated orchestras, that set the blood tingling and the feet to dancing, to the sonorous military bands and orchestras that have been able to put a touch of soul in their renditions that sent people back to their homes setting for having heard them.

We are informed by one of the directors of America like Will Vodery, J. C. Smith, Ford Dabney, H. Lawrence, Simuel Stewart, and others. These men are worthy of every encouragement that is awe inspiring. Added to these are Slade and Blake, Harry Burleigh, Will Marion Cook, Pauline Jenna Lee, the Johnson brothers, Dett, Tibbs, Mrs. Hare, and more than one thousand others varying in kinds of constructive musical development. Music has a very distinct field of possibilities.

Labor Conquers All Things

In the field of labor, Colored America continues to be a factor in practically all sections of the country. The field is thickening and there is a demand for more efficiency but there does not seem to be a let-up in the opportunity for development. This is due first, to the law on immigration and, second, to the increase of prosperity which calls for more workers. There are those who predict another migration from the Southland in 1925, but a further migration will be on a different basis than heretofore. The South is extremely striving to dispose of the arguments against migration especially to the citizen, and on the subjects of education, poor municipal conditions and social injustice. The later-racial movements of the South have been very helpful in broadcasting this new spirit of toleration and larger opportunities. The developments are all the more remarkable in the face of the invisible efforts of invisible organizations to discredit the people of both races who desire to work in harmony. There are many who have the courage of their convictions, however, and their ideas are reflected in a larger spirit of good will. Colored America has never taken over kindly to labor unions, as a group, and in this respect the workers are very hungry to be made of manifesting time, with the majority of laborers not members of any union.

Farming Standards Improving

Farming, as ever before, in Negroes have been a big subject for years, especially in the South. There are some eminently successful farmers in the race but the majority have been handicapped by either knowledge of business methods or unjust treatment. It has been maintained that even in the matter of farm loans by the federal government, the Negro farmers have not been treated with even the same justice as other farmers. There is a new tendency now to be fair to the Negro farmer. There are, in many places in the South, where the land is leased, but public information on this kind of injustice is being so well developed, that a new day is looked for in farm development. The farm is the ideal life, after all, say many great thinkers, and with the automobile, electricity, telephone in rural free delivery, and good roads the farming is becoming the aristocrat of America. There is to be erected in Chicago a Temple of Agriculture to cost more than $50,000,000 and it is stated on good authority that Colored farmers will get fair and just consideration in this mammoth development.

Missouri Negro In Industry

From the Third Biennial Report of the Missouri Negro Industrial Commission

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 5.

The Negro has been an important factor in the development of "A great old Missouri" since the early days of Missouri's history. In 1735 in Ste. Genevieve county Negroes were found as lead miners and fur trappers. The Negro has tilled the soil, worked in factories and quarry, felled the forests, handled freight on river traffic and made an efficient trustworthy domestic servant. During the recent migration, beginning in 1916 the Negro has helped to make Missouri famous as a cotton state.

While approximately 10,000 Negroes are engaged in agricultural pursuits in Missouri, there is an appreciable increase in the number of Negroes engaged in other industries.

Colored Women in Industry

Fifty three and one-tenth per cent of the 1,536 colored women visited were found in the manufacture of food products. 23.3 per cent were in laundries, 17.9 per cent worked in tobacco and 4.4 per cent in rag manufacturing. The median earnings for the whole group were $6.60; the range being from $4.60 in the cheese factory of food products to $8.80 in laundries.

In industries where only two or three isolated colored women were found there seemed to be little difference between their wages and those of white women in the same establishments. It was also found that were employed in large numbers and were practically the only women on a specific operation that their wages were conspicuously lower than those of white women.

The Negro Industrial Commission of Missouri has endeavored to assist in opening new avenues for the colored worker and to assist in placing colored welfare workers in plants where large numbers of Negroes are employed. From the hundreds of questionnaires mailed out from this office, replies indicate that the character of Negro labor is satisfactory with but few exceptions. The chief need of this department is adequate appropriation; the small appropriation of $6,000.00 for the biennium was inadequate.

The Old Year And The New

By Kelly Miller

To the Negro race, Greetings:

"Ring out the old, ring in the new Ring out the false, ring in the true."

The words of Tennyson are pertinent today. Nineteen twenty four has passed into history; nineteen twenty-five is still a prophecy and a promise. The past as Issac is sacred. During the year just past, the Negro race has experienced several important occurrences.

The Negro Sanhedrin

Last February there was launched in the city of Chicago the Negro Sanhedrin which undertook a new plan of race cooperation and conserted procedure. The effective outcome of this movement awaits upon the second meeting set for the early part of the New Year.

The Bonus

Congress enacted a bonus law which was forced over the veto of the President Coolidge, carrying a provision of three or four million dollars to be awarded to the soldiers of the World War. The Negro soldiers will share and share alike with their white fellow fighters in this public largess. From two to three hundred million dollars will come to the race through this bestowal. The Negro does not usually receive his just portion of the advantages which his labors help to make possible. He received little of the glory and acclaim that his valor helped to bring to the national cause. The white man received the stars and leaves to him the stripes. On returning home from the field of victory he found his opportunities restricted rather than enlarged by reason of the victory made possible by his valor. But the bonus tends to even up things. This wind-fall into the lap of the race, if properly husbanded and safeguarded, may add tremendously to its future economic advancement.

The Veteran's Hospital

The installation of a Negro personnel of the Veteran's Hospital at Tuskegee, marks the happiest outcome of the year. At one time the face of the case looked ugly and threatening. Under the statesmanlike handling of Boston with the able reenforcement of the National American Medical Association, with Dr. Dumas in charge of the professional feature, the matter was brought to a most satisfactory issue. Thanks awfully to President Coolidge. While in the mood of thank-

Fraternal Orders Thrive In Arkansas

Associated Negro Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 7.—Fraternal orders in the state of Arkansas are an asset, not only to the colored people who belong to them, but also to the state. The combined assets of 11 years' report for the state insurance commissioner states that there was a decrease of $11,612 in the total liabilities. There was an increase of $1,702 in members.

Most of the orders are housed in their own buildings and the yearly pay roll of all the orders amounts to more than $300,000. They have $1,500,000 in banks.

BELIEF IN MEDIUM CAUSES ARREST ON MURDER CHARGE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 7.—An attempt to communicate with his mother through a spiritualist resulted in the arrest of Percy Black, aged 22, of Wilkinsburg, charged with the murder of Frank Pickney, of Andrews, S. C., more than a year ago. Black, it is said, shot to death and Mack disappeared from his home following the shooting.

Several weeks ago Mack went to a Braddock spiritualist and asked that it would be possible for him to communicate with his mother at Andrews by spiritualism. The medium wrote to the mother at Andrews and the message was intercepted by the police there, who were awaiting some word as to Mack's whereabouts. His arrest by the Braddock police followed when they were notified of Mack's identity by the Andrews officers.

THE JUDGMENT OF THE NATIONS

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 25:31-46.
GOLDEN TEXT—Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto me.—Matt. 25:40.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Kindness Pleases.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Christ's Picture of the Judgment.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Christ's Picture of Judgment.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Practical Christianity.

The subject selected by the lesson committee is, "The Last Judgment," but this is an error. According to best modern lexical and contextual significations it is the judgment of the living nations which still lies in the future (v. 32). The idea of a General Judgment which is at the end of the world's history is a conception of current error in religious literature and teaching is a fundamental error. It is not once found in the Bible, neither the idea which it is intended to convey. Doctor Peterson most truthfully says, "It is a mischievous habit that has led the Christian world to speak of the Judgment as being one great event taking place at the end of the world when all human beings, saints and sinners, Jews and Gentiles, the righteous and the wicked, shall stand up before the great white throne and there be judged." Nothing can be more unlike the Scriptures." The Bible speaks of several judgments, sufficient in reality to satisfy us to be linked together to form the theme of the Judgment and the result of judgment.

I. The Judge (v. 31).

It is the Son of God who came and died to redeem the human race. He is now clothed with majesty and glory and will return in the person of Jesus Christ, who will accept those who are saved as their savior and will reject those who are lost (John 5:22).

II. The Time (v. 31).

This judgment will take place when Jesus comes in His glory to reign as King of kings and Lord of lords. This will take place after He has gathered the elect remnant of Israel. There will be no resurrection in connection with this judgment.

III. The Place (v. 32).

Joel 3:2, 12, 14, and the last chapter of Zechariah 14:1-5, show that Jerusalem is to be the center of this judgment. The word all nations is used in Matthew. He shall be great and shall be called the Son of the Highest: and the Lord God shall give unto Him the throne of His father David: And He shall reign over the house of Jacob forever; and of His Kingdom there shall be no end." Luke 1:32, 33. "And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it. And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and He will teach us of His ways, and we will walk in His paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem. And He shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more." Isa. 2:2-4. "And in that day shall the Lord set His hand again the second time to recover the remnant of His people, which shall be left, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea." Isa. 11:11. "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and righteousness in the earth." Jer. 23:5. "Behold, I will gather them out of all countries, whither I have driven them in Mine anger, and in Mine fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely: And they shall be My people, and I will be their God: And I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear Me forever, for the good of them, and of their children after them: And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put My fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from Me. Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with My whole heart and with My whole soul." Jer. 32:37-41. "Behold, the days come, that I will perform that good thing which I have promised unto the house of Israel and to the house of Judah. In those days, and at that time, will I cause the Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David; and He shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land. In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely: and this is the name wherewith she shall be called, The Lord our righteousness." Jer. 33:14-16. "Behold, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the coasts of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and her that travaileth with child together: a great company shall return thither. They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by the rivers of waters in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a Father to Israel, and Ephraim is My firstborn." Jer. 31:8, 9. "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will perform that good word which I have spoken concerning the house of Israel and concerning the house of Judah. In those days, and at that time, will I make to grow unto David a Branch of righteousness

Save the Drunkard

Sunshine vs. Moonshine

(Written by a woman who saved her husband from the drinking evil)

My man is very good to me.
So loyal, kind and true,
He never gets home really drunk,
As other husbands do,
But sometimes, when just "got too much,"
I wish that I were dead;
For there's no sunshine in my heart,
When moonshine's in his head.

Some folks can laugh at such a plight
As comes from Spirits of Malt,
To me there's naught but aching heart
And pity for Satan's thrall.
And when he's had just "one too many,"
I fear that we must part,
For when there's moonshine in his head
There's no sunshine in my heart.

Within the garden of my life,
Love bloomed in every thought,
But now I fear 'tis wilting fast
And love must come to naught.
I pray before it is too late,
He'll think now of Eve said,
"There's no sunshine in my heart, dear,
When there's moonshine in your head."

I read the book "The National Curse"
Sent out by Dr. Haines,
And I used the "Golden Treatment"
To break the galling chains.
The splendid manhood underneath
Is freed from Satan's power,
Since there's no moonshine in his head,
Our hearts have sunshine there.

I gave the powder secretly
He never knew;
Oh woman do the same today,
The pet you cannot cure.
Our lives are very different,
Since that first day,
In our hearts are floods of sunshine,
And no moonshine in his head.

Save those near and dear to you from the curse of drunkenness and its consequence. You can do it by cutting out this coupon.

Free Treatment Coupon

Fill in your name and address on blanks below. Then cut out this coupon and mail it to Dr. J. W. Haines, 793 Glenn Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio. You will receive in return enough of the treatment to prove to you that it will stop drunkenness in any form. You give it in tea, coffee, or food. The drunkard will stop drinking without knowing why.

Chicago All Set For Greatest Business Drive In History

Associated Negro Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 31.—The year 1924 closes showing that Chicago has stepped all other American cities in material progress for all of great America. But like the ghost story of the late Bert Williams, when the ghost overtook the frightened, running man, and said: "We been goin' some, ain't we?" and the man replied, "yes, but that ain't nothin to what we're gonna do," Chicagoans are saying with reference to developments planned for 1925.

Chicago business men have set out to make Chicago the great commercial center and clearing house for the groups throughout America. All is that, now in an unorganized way but we are going to organize our resources, develop more within, and scour the world for business," said one of the foremost business men to The Associated Negro Press.

Including the new Annex of the Liberty Life Insurance Company, the Illinois State Bank, the Drexel National Bank, the Pythian Building, the Masonic Temple, the Elks building, and a number of other business structures of less degree, the city of Chicago has finished, or has under construction properties valued at more than $5,000,000. Competent authorities state that this figure cannot be approached by any other city, and this amount does not include dwellings or church edifices but only business properties. New York ought to be a rival of Chicago in business development, but New York "hasn't started yet," according to Chicago business men. In fact, according to Frank L. Gillespie, President of the Liberty Life Insurance Company, "We think that Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can show more business development than New York, and in the Middle West, Cleveland, Detroit, Indianapolis and St. Louis are all in a better showing than New York City." It is thought that New York has not "found itself." New York is not regarded as thinking that over the "World ends at Hoboken," are individualistic, and hence make a poor business showing in comparison with the other big cities of the country, and the vast colored population practically all centered in Harlem. There is a small group of Negro New Yorkers who are hoping for better days.

Chicago Plans Big Business Temple

One of the things that Chicago has in mind is the erection of great Business Temples, to cost at least $500,000 and perhaps, more, where all of the big insurance companies, banks, manufacturers and other large enterprises may have offices and keep in touch with the pulse of business trend and progress. Some have suggested that the National Negro Business League or the National Negro Finance Corporation should sponsor such a building, while others have stated that the Associated Business clubs of Chicago, R. R. Abbott, President, and Jesse Binga, Secretary-Treasurer, could well undertake such a monumental development.

For 1925, one of the first developments to be announced will be a $1,000,000 Investment organization in Chicago, backed by capital of both races, for the purpose of purchasing and constructing residence properties on the South side of Chicago. The continual development of the North side where thousands of whites are moving, and the growing demand for first-class residential places on the South side, is said to make this one of the flattering possibilities of success. Properties on the South side of Chicago already in possession of colored residents are one of the marvels of all visitors, and in the finer districts, it is not only being kept up, but is continual ly increasing in value.

There have been conferences with reference to creating a mammoth new theatre building, and another hotel. In the matter of South side theatres, they are all in the hands of white capitalists who employ colored workers. A big number have become immensely wealthy, and some of them are very haughty. It has been discussed that some of this wealth must go into racial pockets, and banks, where it will, and in this district. Chicago is already In "Class A-1" on hotels, but because of the tremendous demand for first-class accommodations, Chicago business interests are cheerfully seeking to meet the demands of the hour.

William Randolph Cowan, one of the foremost real estate men of the race, who has just returned from a tour to California, states that "We look forward to making 1925 a great year. I have had conferences with a large number of people, who have voluntarily expressed a desire to become a part of Chicago's commercial development. Our aim is simply to have them understand that they are welcome, and to have them understand that we always have the latch string out."

BURNS WIFE'S CLOTHES

Associated Negro Press.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 31.—After his wife had locked him out from the home as the result "of a quarrel, Samuel McClellan crawled in through a window, seized his wife's clothes and set fire to them. When he was arrested and questioned by the police he explained that he wanted to make her stay at home.

ROBBED OF CHRISTMAS FUND

Associated Negro Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 31.—For the second successive year and near the same spot, William Harris, an insurance agent, who is the custodian of a Christmas fund among his neighbors, was held up and robbed of $1600 Wednesday night by two men at Fifty-eighth street and Hartford avenue.

Mr. Harris was the founder of the Christmas Club which he eight years old and the members consist of residents of the neighborhood in which he lives. Tuesday night, Harry, he had drawn $6225 from the bank late Tuesday afternoon. Part of the money was given to his associates in the enterprise and he had taken the rest to disburse among the other members. Because of the robbery which had occurred for the second time in the same manner and near the same spot, Harris was grilled by the police and he brought the amount taken from him down from $2500 to $1600. Police are looking for the bandits.

On the west coast of Africa stand today ruins of high back towers, very much like our lighthouses, that date back to unknown ages. They seem to indicate that the inhabitants of the coast were in the habit of communicating with some other men far out to the ocean.

Missouri Negro In Industry

hardly sufficient for the department to exist to say nothing of extensive scientific survey work. With adequate appropriation this department could very easily assist in securing large numbers of migrants for Missouri farmers at the time that they are most needed. As it is now many of the skilled workers are lost to the farmer because they secure work in the manufacturing plants of the larger cities. We offer as a suggestion to the Forty-Third General Assembly that sufficient appropriation be given so that branch offices may operate in St. Louis and Kansas City.

The members of this commission have gladly rendered efficient service without any compensation whatever. We believe that in View of the fact that these ladies and gentlemen are business and professional people who receive lucrative salaries or emoluments in their respective fields of endeavor, that they should be paid a per diem commensurate to services rendered the state.

We believe that there is a brighter day dawning for the Negro in Missouri, we must continue to work in harmony with our white brother to assist in opening every available opportunity for our people that our welfare may be firmly established and our safety made secure.

The Old Year And The New

fulness, we may as well render thanks to the President for kindly and righteous intervention in behalf of the Houston soldiers.

The Election

The election led to the intelligent and patriotic division of the Negro vote. Even those who followed the fortunes of the Grand Old Party to an unprecedented and unexpected victory readily concede that this was the one significant outcome of racial moment and importance. The effect of this division is fraught with great promise to the Republican party. Renewed Philanthropy

The munificent contributions to Hampton and Tuskegee rank among the striking events of the year. Fear was expressed that the fountains of northern philanthropy had dried up. We heard little during the past few years of the munificent donations that characterized the days of Washington and Frizzell, Stroeto, Changs. In a moment, as it were, in the twinkling of an eye, these two great schools have doubled the foundations upon which their founders devoted a life time to establish. But most striking of all, was the clear sky donation to the Johnson, C. Smith University of Charlotte, North Carolina. One million six hundred thousand dollars goes to the permanent endowment of this Negro college from a Southern white man who rose above race and color in the distribution of his fortune.

The Literary Revival

For a number of years immediately preceding and succeeding the war, the Negro question was taboo in American magazines. No fault belongs to the editors for this neglect. The magazine editor who does not give to the public what its taste calls for will soon be like Othello, without a job. But during the past year or so, the Negro question has become all but the favorite theme of American periodical literature. This indicates that the public mind is interested and alert to this type of discussion. When the public mind is closed, there is hope. A number of books and stories have appeared from the pen of Negro writers which shows a new spirit and breathes a new purpose.

Garvey's Ups and Downs

The Garvey Movement has undergone interesting experiences, whose appraisement one finds it difficult to state. It is hard to predict the outcome where a capricious genius is the guiding spirit. During the year this significant movement has been playing hide-and-seek. In the language of the plantation melody: "I'm sometimes up and sometimes down, and sometimes I live under the ground."

The New Year

Let us now turn attention to the year of our Lord nineteen twenty-five. What is the program of the New Year? What are some of the objectives towards which the race should strive during the next ensuing twelve months? The prospect is rather spectacular not brilliant. There is nothing new above the horizon which challenges attention in a striking way. The progress of the New Year promises to be orderly, normal and constructive.

The New Administration

The Republican party has won a sweeping victory. The new administration will be inaugurated next March fourth. But as the new Congress will not meet till December first, the new order of things will hardly make much headway till the New Year has expired. The Negro politicians are prophesying all sorts of extravagant advantages that will flow from the political fountain. Matthews has posted his seventeen points. Discrimination is to be done away within the departments. Negroes are to be appointed to federal offices on a scale never before approached. Remedial legislation is to be enacted. The political millenium is scheduled to arrive in nineteen twenty five. But we have heard such roseate prophesies before. It is good policy to hope for all of these things; but to expect little or nothing. Then all that comes will be received with appreciation but without disappointment. I predict that there will be one conspicuous Negro recess appointment during the incoming year. Beyond this power of prediction fails me.

Civil Service Reform

The discrimination against the Negro in the Civil Service has now reached such a phase, that there is every reason to hope that the Bertillon System of identification will be substituted for photographs. This will bring the race the greatest advantage which has come from legislative or administrative action in recent years. All that is now needed is concerted effort of the race to bring this to pass. Then we may hope that qualified Negroes will again recruit clerical positions without discrimination, as they did when Theodore Roosevelt, the apostle of the square deal, was Civil Service Commissioner.

Residential Segregation

The Negroes of Washington have fought the question of residential segregation through the two lower courts to a loss. The decision as the case now stands is registered against us, Covenants between property holders not to sell to Negro purchasers, have been upheld by judicial decision as far as tested. The N. A. A. C. P. has engaged to push the issue through the Supreme Court. The race will risk the fate of the entire issue upon a single throw of pitch and toss. A victory from the Supreme Court will be a victory indeed; a defeat will be a second Dred Scot Decision. It would place the property rights of the race about where that infamous and unfair decision placed its human rights. But the die is cast. The case must be fought to a finish. Every Negro in the land should rally to the support of the N. A. A. C. P. in this critical issue. In the language of Macgley:

"Shame on the false Etruscan
who lingers in his home,
While Porcena of Clusium is on the march to Rome."

Any Negro who lags behind in this vital issue by reason of rivalry, jealousy or misunderstanding may fairly be accused of being a slacker in the face of danger.

The Negro Ganhedrin

The second and determinative meeting of the Negro Sanhedrin will take place during the New Year. The plans outlined in the Chicago meeting will be put into practical execution. There will be installed at Washington an agency to deal with all matters of race wide interest. This clearing house arrangement will be based upon the co-operation and support of the constituent organizations engaged to unite in this unifying plan of procedure. Now is the time for all interested to be thinking of this great consummation, which we all so long have sought and mourned because we could it not.

Thus we stand at the parting of the years. Our vision looks both forward and back. Sufficient unto the years are the evils thereof. Let us now contemplate only the things that are good, constructive and ameliorative. Forgetting the things that are past, let us press forward to the mark of the high calling of the New Year.
